

WATCH FOR ANY HOSTILE SIGNS FROM THE REBELS

WATCHFUL EYE OF U. S. GOVERNMENT TRAINED ON TRANS-CONTINENTAL LINE

Army Moves with Swift and Precision to Protect the American Boundary and Reinforce Force of Marines and Bluejackets at Vera Cruz—Many Officials Impressed with Villa's Pronouncement and Optimism is Apparent at Meeting of President Wilson and the Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—While the attention of the American government, for the most part today was concentrated on restoring order at Vera Cruz and expediting the departure of Americans from all parts of Mexico, a watchful eye was trained on the trans-continental boundary between Mexico and the United States for any signs of hostility from the Mexican constitutionalists. President Wilson and his cabinet had a long meeting after which optimism was conspicuously apparent both in their demeanor and informal discussion of the situation. There was no particular development to which the feeling of hopefulness that real war would be averted could be traced but General Villa's friendly pronouncement it was admitted, had impressed many officials here with the possibility that the constitutionalists after all would remain neutral while the American government sought reparation from Huerta.

Other officials were not so sanguine and the army moved with precision and swiftness to protect the American boundary and reinforce the expeditionary forces of marines and bluejackets at Vera Cruz. Conferences at the state department between Secretary Bryan and representatives of the constitutionalists resulted in the dispatch to General Carranza of a telegram by the latter, strongly advising him to remain neutral and assuring him that the American government intended to withdraw its forces from Mexico just as soon as satisfactory reparation had been made for offenses committed by Huerta. The advice given Carranza here was that by assuming hostile attitude he would draw all Mexico into a war; Huerta would be perpetuated and the constitutionalist cause lost in the melee.

Four countries, among them France and Spain, came forward with inquiries to the United States about possible means of mediation between the Huerta government and the United States but Secretary Bryan said these advances could not be described as "overtures."

Government is Firm.
The position of the American government is firm that an offense against its dignity and national honor has been committed and that it must enforce reparation from General Huerta.

Signs of uneasiness abroad because the United States though not having declared a blockade or a state of war is exercising jurisdiction at Vera Cruz through measures "short of war" and actual war began to be apparent today. Cabinet officials said no attempt would be made to interfere with the regular channels of commerce anywhere, cargoes being allowed to land at all points. Munitions of war alone, will be held at the Vera Cruz customs house if landed.

But outside of the diplomatic branch of the government the army and navy continued their plans for the holding of Vera Cruz, the care of refugees, the provisioning of American forces and the maintenance of a strict border patrol, not only to prevent raids and uprisings, but to keep all factions in Mexico from obtaining munitions, arms and ammunition from the United States. The war department continued its plan for the mobilization of regulars and volunteers should the president call for them. The army transports, bearing infantry and artillery, sailed from Galveston to reinforce the naval forces at Vera Cruz.

The sporadic outbreak at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, where the evacuating federals burned the town and fired across the American border was not unexpected but it was significantly pointed out by officials here that the American troops returned the fire merely in defense of the international line and did not become the aggressors.

Congress still talked about Mexico. Senator Lodge read a long telegram from many prominent persons urging and inquiry into the Mexican situation before war was declared.

Representative Fitzgerald chairman of the house committee on appropriations asked the president if he wanted any war appropriation and Mr. Wilson said, "not as yet."

Practically Without Funds.
Secretary Garrison is practically without funds for the particular movements of the army now being made but he is drawing on the ture. It is a violation of law for the war department to incur any obligation without authorization by congress but Mr. Garrison smilingly said he had "faced jail" several times in the last few days on this account.

Mr. Wilson will affix his signature probably tomorrow, to the volunteer army bill providing the machinery for raising a volunteer army force in any time of emergency. The possibility that the militia might be needed at this time led to an appeal to the supreme court of the United States for decision of pending case to remove legal obstacles in the use of the militia for volunteer service. Estimates by army officers as to the number of men the president might call for in case of war range from fifty to one hundred thousand but not a word has come from the white house as to this point.

Spirit of Hope Apparent.

While a spirit of optimism and hopefulness was apparent at the white house the three big executive departments continued busy with their new burden of activity. At the state department Secretary Bryan talked to a procession of callers. The Spanish ambassador had a brief conference, presenting, it is believed, an inquiry from his government about possible mediation. The German ambassador, it was understood, inquired about the status of commercial vessels and their cargoes and told Mr. Bryan about the uncertainty abroad whether a blockade had been declared or a state of war existed. No information was forthcoming from the German ambassador or Mr. Bryan as to the conference. The American government holds that its seizure of the customs is in accordance with international precedent as an act of reprisal. No blockade has been declared and no interference with commerce will be attempted.

The German vessel which carried the big shipment of arms which it was feared might reach Huerta has landed its commercial cargo, but the captain of the vessel, for reasons of his own, has not put the ammunition ashore. There has been no effort on the part of the United States forces at Vera Cruz to prevent its landing.

Will Collect All Customs.
The accepted theory here is that the ammunition was not landed because of the certainty that it would not reach the consignee if deposited in the Vera Cruz customs house.

American naval officers will not interfere with the interior shipment of the cargoes but will collect the customs and hold them until reparation has been made for all offenses.

Mr. Bryan gave much attention to arranging for the supervision of American consulates in Mexico. He issued orders authorizing all American consuls both in federal and constitutional territory to withdraw from Mexico, but left it to their discretion when to leave. The secretary announced the consuls of Great Britain, Chile and France would look out for American interests at points where the Brazilian government had no consulates. Brazil already has taken charge of the American embassy at Mexico City, where the Brazilian flag has replaced the stars and stripes over the building. Consul General Shannlin is still in Mexico City, according to the latest word at the state department and has been instructed to use his discretion about leaving. It is believed he will stay until the last American is cared for, taking refuge finally, if necessary, in some other foreign consulates or legations.

Quiet in Mexico City.
There was no information about the condition of Americans in Mexico City beyond a brief message early in the day saying everything was quiet and no harm had befallen any Americans. Secretary Bryan said he did not know what disposition had been made of the arms which had been received recently at the American embassy for its protection.

At the war department Secretary Garrison spent most of his time arranging for the departure of the fifth infantry brigade from Galveston, commanded by Brig. Gen. Funston. The order for the movement was received by the corps at the quarter-master corps at 9 o'clock last night, the property and troops loaded throughout the night, steam gotten up and the fleet put under way with thirty days' supplies within a period

O'SHAUGHNESSY NOW IN CITY OF VERA CRUZ

United States Charge Arrives Safely After Journey from Mexico City

AMERICANS DETAINED

Gen. Huerta Orders that No More Americans Be Permitted to Leave Mexican Capital

ORDER IS RESULT OF RUMOR

VERA CRUZ, April 24.—Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the United States charge d'affaires at Mexico City, arrived here tonight.

Rear-Admiral Fletcher reported to the navy department late tonight that a special train from Mexico City bearing Charge O'Shaughnessy and other Americans had arrived at a point five miles out from Vera Cruz where the track was torn up. A train from Vera Cruz to meet the charge had reached the break in the track. The admiral also reported that a rumor had reached Mexico City that Mexicans were being detained at Vera Cruz and that as a result General Huerta had ordered that no more Americans be permitted to leave the capital.

Under date of 6:30 p. m. today, Rear-Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz reported to the navy department:

"Upon telegraphic request of Charge d'affaires O'Shaughnessy the train left here at 3 o'clock conveying Captain Huse, Lieut. Fletcher and Ensign P. Todd to meet him. It also carried the family of General Maas and about 250 Mexicans. At about five miles out track was found torn up for about three quarters of a mile. On the other side of the breach in the track was a train from Mexico City conveying Charge d'affaires and others, as follows:

"Mrs. O'Shaughnessy, child and maid; Captain Burnside, Lieut. Rowan, Mr. and Mrs. Parker, Mr. McKenna, Consul General Shannlin and staff.

"The train was in charge of chief of staff General Corona, two aides and an escort of about fifty odd troops.

"The transfer of passengers was effected with some formalities. Greetings exchanged between the chiefs of staff. Both sides carried flags of truce.

"The rumor has reached Mexico City that no Mexicans were allowed to leave Vera Cruz and it was reported that in consequence Huerta would not allow any more Americans to leave Mexico City. Mexicans in Vera Cruz have been allowed to leave at will and every facility and transportation available has been given but none has been able to go out on trains. Captain Huse was directed to lay emphasis on this fact and to express a strong desire to send daily trains to convey Mexicans from Vera Cruz to meet trains bringing foreigners from Mexico City. General Corona promised to bring it to the attention of Huerta.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy is going aboard the battleship Minnesota. He has received no orders to return to Washington.

Plight of Americans Critical.
Those who arrived here tonight have not the vaguest idea of the exact number of Americans detained in the capital but it is known that a great many were at the station to take the train, which they had good reason to believe would be the last to leave for Vera Cruz.

Mr. O'Shaughnessy brought with him his automobile and his Mexican chauffeur upon whose cap was restored the red, white and blue insignia which three days ago in the capital had been removed because of the anti-American manifestations against anything pertaining to the United States.

The newspapers of the capital continue to print vicious tirades against Americans and mobs continue active. The plight of Americans in the capital is reported to be more critical, although as yet none of them is known to have received bodily injury.

PUBLIC OPINION IS BITTER AGAINST THE UNITED STATES

Chile Paper Declares War in Mexico is Result of Want of Common Sense.

Valparaiso, Chile, April 24.—Public opinion here is bitter against the United States as a result of the Mexican crisis. In an editorial today the United States is called an international morality, and continues:

"The war in Mexico is the result of a want of common sense. The proceedings of the United States are not justified. That country cannot be the judge of foreign civil wars and ought to have limited its protection to its nationals and its frontiers. The war against Huerta offends the Mexican nation. The conflict will end as on other occasions, in a new dismemberment of Mexico. The punishment is out of proportion to the offense—the incident at Tampico—and is a threat against the rest of America."

The super-dreadnought New York, rushed into commission on orders from President Wilson, places the Atlantic fleet in a high degree of efficiency, and the Texas and the Wyoming, undergoing repairs at Brooklyn, are also soon to be in commission. Captain T. S. Rodgers is commander of the New York. The New York has a displacement of 27,000 tons and cost about $10,000,000. Her main battery consists of ten fourteen-inch guns.

BULLETINS ON THE MEXICAN SITUATION

Sixth Field Artillery on Way to Border

Fort Riley, Kans., April 25.—The Sixth Field Artillery, equipped for active service is on the way to the Mexican border. The first section left Fort Riley at 12:30 o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

Army Forces Will Replace Bluejackets and Marines

Washington, April 24.—Secretary Daniels said tonight that as soon as the army forces were installed at Vera Cruz and had the situation well in hand the bluejackets and marines now holding the Mexican city probably would be withdrawn.

Skilled Aviators Ready for Service in Mexico

Washington, April 24.—A. B. Lambert, of St. Louis, head of the Aero Reserve Corps of America tonight telegraphed Secretary Daniels offering 100 skilled aviators for service in Mexico. The offer will be considered tomorrow.

Texas Companies to Aid in Protecting Border

Washington, April 24.—Governor Colquitt telegraphed Secretary Garrison tonight that he had ordered ten companies of Texas infantry, a detachment of cavalry and a battery of artillery to Brownsville to aid in protecting the state border.

Constitutionalists Renew Attack at Tampico

Washington, April 23.—Constitutionalists have renewed their attack upon the Mexican federal garrison at Tampico. This was reported to the navy department early this morning by Rear-Admiral Mayo at Tampico through Rear-Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz.

Situation in Mexico City Becoming More Alarming

Vera Cruz, April 24.—The situation in the capital city is becoming more alarming for Americans, according to refugees who arrived here today. The mobs in the streets were increasing in size and numbers they said. They confirmed the report that the rifles and rapid fire guns that recently were permitted to reach the American embassy had been seized by order of President Huerta and stated also that a house to house search had been begun for arms.

Federals Re-Occupy City

Eagle Pass, Tex., April 24.—One hundred Mexican federal soldiers, said to be part of the force which evacuated the town yesterday after attempting to destroy the international bridge, re-occupied Piedras Negras tonight. Major T. Garcia in command of the troops declares he will permit no disorder.

In Eagle Pass a volunteer guard is patrolling the streets tonight. Residents are required to remain within their homes after nine o'clock. Twelve American refugees arrived from Nava, Mexico, tonight.

CIVIL ADMINISTRATION IS ORGANIZED AT VERA CRUZ

Effort is Made to Secure Mexicans as Heads of Various Divisions of Civil Government But Without Avail.

Vera Cruz, April 24.—Five divisions of the civil administration were organized today—police, sanitary, harbor, finance and customs. An effort was made to secure Mexicans as the heads of all the departments. This was found to be impossible at least in two departments and American officers were assigned to the posts. They are Lieut. Commander McNeely of the Battleship Louisiana, who was appointed chief of police and the fleet paymaster, who was made collector of customs. An effort is still being made to secure Mexicans as the heads of the other departments, but if this is found to be impossible Americans will be placed in charge of all of them. An American will be made inspector over each department headed by a Mexican.

Under the civil administration an inspector will act as judge advocate in murder cases in which Americans are involved and also in cases of crimes which have to do with the attitude of residents of Vera Cruz toward the United States. The police provisions call for a continuance of the patrol of Americans, although the Mexicans have been invited to co-operate in the organization of a native force. The customs receipts, it is said, may be placed to the credit of the United States.

Close scrutiny will be maintained over all newspapers and other publications and no editorial comment concerning the American occupation or news regarding the movement of troops will be permitted. The commandant of the San Juan de Uloa fortress in the inner harbor dressed in full uniform called on Rear-Admiral Fletcher today, and was granted permission to take supplies to women and children refugees in the fortress.

The Battleship Louisiana sailed for Galveston today to convey the army transports to Vera Cruz.

TWO MORE DEAD REPORTED.

Washington, April 24.—A despatch from Admiral Badger today adds to the list of American dead at Vera Cruz the following:

Louis Frank Boswell, chief gunner's mate, home address, Coulterville, Ills., next of kin, father, William H. Boswell.

Randolph Summerlin, private, marine corps, home address, Willacoochee, Ga.

WERE ON WAY TO VERA CRUZ

LANE, Tex., April 24.—Nuevo Laredo, the thriving Mexican town opposite here was in ruins tonight, devastated by dynamite and fire by Mexican federal soldiers who late today began an orgy of destruction which did not end until they were forced to flee southward before the guns of the American border patrol. Two Mexicans are known to have been killed by the United States troops.

Several brisk skirmishes between the Americans and Mexicans were fought in quick succession as the Mexicans, their troop trains ready to pull out of the burning city, began an indiscriminate fire across the international boundary but tonight there was no evidence that their shooting had been effective.

Property damage in Nuevo Laredo will reach $500,000.

Among the buildings destroyed were the United States consulate, municipal buildings, postoffice, theatre, flour mill, one of the largest in the southwest, railroad shops of the Mexican National railway and other smaller structures.

Late tonight the fire still was burning.

Kerosene and other combustibles, liberally used, added to the wreckage which otherwise would not have been great owing to the adobe construction largely used.

No Loss in Laredo.

There was no property loss in Laredo. Both international bridges are safe though efforts to dynamite them were made. One Mexican was shot by a sharpshooter from the top of the water tower. The Mexican was trying to reach the end of the international foot and wagon bridge. Another was killed when he tried to blow up the American railroad bridge. Americans were constantly at the American side to prevent such an attempt.

When the Mexican soldiers finally departed order was quickly restored in Laredo but strong guards remain throughout the city. A serious problem was furnished immigration and city authorities by the presence of hundreds of refugees from the burning city who had to be furnished food and shelter.

The federal garrison evacuated Nuevo Laredo yesterday, supposedly going to Saltillo or Monterrey. With their departure the busy little city ordinarily of about 7,000 population was deserted, all who did not follow the soldiers rushing panic stricken to the American side in fear of bandit attacks. Early today the federals returned and it was announced they came back with additional engines to pull their troop trains.

The Mexican railroad shops are here. There was little excitement occasioned by the presence of the federals until this afternoon. Smoke was seen issuing from some of the buildings around the plaza. The municipal building and the American consulate broke into flame simultaneously. Next door to the consulate, the postoffice, temporarily closed also was seen to be burning and around the plaza smoke began to issue from the windows and roofs of other buildings.

Fire Spreads Rapidly.

A few minutes later a loud explosion wrecked houses and the fire spread rapidly in all directions. Americans began to gather on the river bank but hastily retreated when warned that other explosions nearer at hand might occur. Troops at Fort McIntosh were ordered out and in a few minutes a rigid guard was established in the danger zone. At the two bridges across the river the guards were reinforced and it was here that the only known loss of life occurred. The machine gun platoon from Fort McIntosh took possession below the center of the city where the federals, who now were crowding into their trains poured a fusillade of shots across the border.

Battery A., of the Third Field Artillery was sent to the power house of the Laredo Electric & Light company, fearing an attack there but it was soon seen there was nothing for them to do.

Several Mexicans were seen to fall beyond the fire from the machine guns but they were carried away by their comrades. The trains were started and the federals withdrew, firing as long as they could. For some distance the railroad was guarded.

After silencing the Mexicans part

VERA CRUZ, April 24.—Seven Americans, prisoners of Mexican soldiers, are being held at Cordoba or Orizaba, on the line of the Mexican railway between here and the capital, four of whom at least are threatened with execution, according to authentic information received here tonight. Four of the Americans were taken from a train on the Vera Cruz-Isthmus line at Tierra Blanca and further along at Motzlongo station, three other Americans and an Englishman were seized. Those captured at Tierra Blanca are W. A. Mangan, superintendent of the railroad, Engineer Elliott and Conductors Riley and Hart.

At Motzlongo Edward Weunch, his son, Sidney, A. M. Thomas and Mr. Boyd, an Englishman, were arrested by the federals.

The belief that the federals intended to execute at least four of the prisoners was gained from the conversation of the soldiers who captured them which was overheard by passengers on the train. The prisoners were taken to Cordoba and, it is believed, later were transferred to Orizaba, a point nearer the capital. Eighteen Americans are still in Tierra Blanca, among them, J. O. Cook, chief engineer of the Isthmus railway; J. O. Schneider, J. D. Longston, C. D. Harrison and wife and children and Mr. and Mrs. George McComber.

An indirect report received here today from Mexico City said that a mob attempted to burn the terminal of the Mexican railway but was prevented by President Huerta's troops.

Confiscating All Rolling Stock.

The Mexicans are confiscating all the locomotives and rolling stock of the Mexican railway and concentrating them at Apizaco, an hour's run south of the capital. All the engineers of that line have been held and sent to Orizaba. The train despatcher at Orizaba was arrested but released later and told to leave. Police court affairs at Vera Cruz were administered today by a naval lieutenant who was kept busy hearing the cases of Mexicans who had been picked up by the patrols of the army during the recent fighting. He proved to be a lenient magistrate, much to the surprise of the Mexicans, many of whom believed the "gringos" would order their execution.

Thomas B. Hohler, the British charge d'affaires, who had charge of the train which brought the refugees from the capital here last night intended to return to the capital tonight.

The British Cruiser Hermione, which although a neutral vessel, has been engaged in the removal of Americans from Tampico, reports that only a few are now there.

Rear-Admiral Fletcher today received the congratulations of Secretary Daniels of the navy. The admiral conveyed to the officers and men his own appreciation of their "splendid conduct which gained for them the highest approbation of the secretary of the navy."

Much of the work of re-organizing affairs in the city has been forced on the naval officers and consul Canada and his staff, including C. E. MacEachran, former secretary of John Lind, are keeping long hours at business. The cable office here is being taxed to its fullest capacity with official, commercial and press despatches.

C. Mitchell, manager of the operating force is working day and night to move the business. In some cases his men have had no sleep for more than 36 hours.

ANNOUNCES RESIGNATION.

Chicago, April 24.—Frank C. Dillard, vice-president and general counsel of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad announced today that he had resigned to take effect May 1st.

of the Ninth Infantry was withdrawn from the river front, the others remaining on guard.

Rumors that some American soldiers were wounded proved to be without foundation.

Colonel Crane of the Ninth Infantry announced that a rigid patrol of the city, particularly of the business section and the American section would be maintained.

Alexander's Handsome New M. E. Church

At a cost of over $10,000 the people of the Methodist Episcopal church at Alexander, have erected a beautiful, modern building, which is to be dedicated Sunday morning.
The building is constructed of mat faced brick, trimmed with Bedford stone and the Gothic style of architecture is used throughout. The interior is natural finish and the decorating was done by a Springfield firm. Art glass windows have been used throughout.
The main auditorium will seat about 400 people. On the main floor of the building there is also a lecture room with a rolling partition, so that it can be used in connection with the auditorium. The pastor's study is also located on the main floor. The basement has been finished in white and has an entrance from the outside. Off from the large room is a kitchen and cloak room. The Blaugas lighting system is used throughout the building.

The building committee consisted of
W. E. Keenan, P. B. Six, J. E.
Erickson, Luther Wiley and John Snyder. Fred Grandgean was the builder.

 motive powers visited the shops all day Thursday.

Engine 63 will find a place in the machine shop in place of 17 sent out yesterday.

Engine No. 59 has been sent over from Springfield for a general overhauling and repairs.

The tank of engine No. 4 was smashed in a wreck and looks as if it was beyond repair.

Engine No. 31 has been put into perfect condition and has been sent out on a passenger run.

Engine No. 5, which is all in shape tested and ready for orders as soon as received.

Engines No. 26 and 29 are things of the past. They were too far gone to be overhauled and have been scrapped and the last of them, fire boxes and boilers, will go out to scrap dealers in a few days.

The wood shop is busy still with the caboose and passenger car being overhauled and put in shape.

WEDDING OF MISS ANDREWS AT CANTON A BRILLIANT EVENT

Groom is Mr. Harold Paris of Minneapolis.—Papers Declare Bride One of Most Popular Young Ladies of Canton Society.

The wedding of Miss Mary Lee Andrews of Canton to Mr. Harold Chapman Paris of Minneapolis was a very notable event in society circles there. The Canton papers gave extended notices of the event. Mrs. Harry K. Chenoweth of this city was the matron of honor. The Ledger's account was in part as follows:

"One of the most beautiful weddings that has yet graced the annals of Canton society took place at eight o'clock last evening at the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Andrews, when their daughter Mary Lee, became the bride of Harold Chapman Paris of Minneapolis.

"Wild smilax hung in trailing drapery throughout the spacious rooms, and made the stairway a mass of green. In the reception hall the mantle was banked with fragrant white Marechal Niel roses intermingled with the smilax. Arranged in charming profusion everywhere were clusters of lilies of the valley which shook fragrance from their tiny cups with every breath of air, and white rosebuds tied with tulle in the living room where the ceremony was performed by Bishop Fawcett, of Quincy, a bower of smilax made an exquisite setting for the bridal party.

"At the first strains of the wedding music from Lohengrin, played by Walker's orchestra, Howard Yerxa and Louis Buchanan stretched the white satin ribbons to form an aisle from the staircase to the altar of smilax and white roses. Bishop Fawcett then entered, followed by the groom and his groomsmen, Ben Paris, a brother. Next came the matron of honor, Mrs. Harry Chenoweth, cousin of the bride, wearing a wedding gown of white satin trimmed in heavy brocade lace and carrying a pink chiffon muff with a shower of pink Killarney roses. Miss Denmon Hemenover and Miss Martha Andrews of Mattoon, the bridesmaids, followed separately, each gowned in pink taffeta, fashioned in the prevailing mode with panniers, the bodice having garnitures of shadow lace and pearls. They wore corsage bouquets of Killarney roses and carried white shepherds' drooks tied with a cluster of the roses and tulle.

Gown is Perfect.

The bride then entered, with her father, who gave her away. The wedding gown was of white crepe meteor, trimmed with imported Princess lace and a girdle of pearls and brilliants. The soft Princess lace veil caught with orange blossoms wreathed her lovely face, and fell to the hem of the long square train. Her veil completely enveloped her in a mist of sheer laces. She carried an armful of lilies of the valley, orchids and white rosebuds. The only ornament the bride wore was the magnificent diamond and platinum bracelet given her by the groom.

"Little Miss Virginia Plattenburg, wearing an exquisite little white embroidered net gown with pink ribbons at her belt and in her hair, acted as flower girl and preceded the bride, strewing rose leaves as she came. During the impressive Episcopal ring ceremony Lee Martin acted as Master of Ceremonies.

Toilettes Beautiful.

"Mrs. J. L. Andrews, mother of the bride, was most charmingly attired in a lovely gown of lavender with a tunk of crystal and lavender beads with a girdle of old blue velvet. Her corsage bouquet was of white roses and lavender sweet peas. Mrs. A. W. Paris, mother of the groom, was lovely in a gown of gold and white trimmed profusely with heavy lace. She wore sweet peas. Mrs. A. M. Bronson, grandmother of Mr. Paris, her gentle face wreathed in soft gray hair wore a purple frock with an overdrap of black lace. Mrs. B. M. Paris, sister-in-law, wore a wedding gown of white satin with a train.

The bridal couple departed at midnight for the east via St. Louis and will spend their honeymoon in a number of the large cities and watering places. On their return they will go to apartments in the Lemington hotel, Minneapolis.

"About one hundred and fifty guests were present at the ceremony. Wedding presents received represent thousands of dollars and comprise cut glass, linens, silverware, a handsome chest of Mt. Vernon pattern silver given the bride by her parents, a check for $1,000 given them by Mr. and Mrs. Paris, china, oriental rugs, embroidered pieces, chafing dishes, percolators, books, trays of precious woods, pictures by famous artists, etc.

A Belle of City.

Mrs. Paris is well known in Canton and the surrounding cities. She attended Knoxville seminary for five years and there received three diplomas. Besides being most charming in manner and face, she is the possessor of a lovely voice.

Mr. Paris is engaged in the candy business with his father, A. W. Paris, in Minneapolis, and is highly esteemed both in social and business circles.

"Among out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Hull, of Peoria; Mrs. Clara Alexander of Corydon, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Andrews of Mattoon; Mrs. F. J. Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chenoweth, Mrs. H. L. Hall and son, Mrs. Betty Yates, of Jacksonville.

JUTICE COURTS.

Emma West, charged with larceny, was arraigned in Squire Dyer's court Friday morning. A change of venue was taken to Squire Henderson's court, where she was placed under $100 bond for her appearance for trial. In default of bond she was committed to the county jail.

ROBERT S. FANNING PASSES AWAY AT OUR SAVIOR'S HOSPITAL FRIDAY

Well Known Local Traveling Man Dies After Several Weeks Illness.—Funeral Sunday.

Robert S. Fanning, one of Jacksonville's best known traveling salesmen, passed away Friday night at 9 o'clock at Our Savior's hospital. Mr. Fanning was taken ill while on the road March 17 and returned home. He gradually grew worse and was taken to the hospital a short time ago.

Robert S. Fanning was a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fanning and was born in Murrayville 41 years ago. He had resided in Jacksonville for the past fifteen years and was formerly employed by the Matthews Woven Wire Fence company in this city. In 1900 he took a position as traveling salesman for the L. S. Kent Cigar Company and continued with the firm after the business was purchased by the A. F. Franks Cigar Company. Mr. Fanning was most successful in his chosen occupation and was a man who was well liked by a wide circle of friends. He was a member of the Elks, a past president of Post O., T. P. A., and a past counselor of the local U. C. T. lodge. He is survived by his parents, who reside in Murrayville, his widow, three brothers, Thomas of Beards-town, and Charles and Frank Fanning of this city, and one sister, Mrs. H. C. Busby of this city.

The remains were taken to the Gillham undertaking establishment. Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon, the hour and the place to be announced later.

AT THE GRAND.

"The Calling of Dan Matthews", by Harold Bell Wright and Elsbury W. Reynolds, was the offering at the Grand Friday night, which played to a good sized audience. The play concerned a young preacher in the Ozark mountains, who starts out to make others nobler for his life, with the love of a fine woman to assist him. The production was staged by a good company and the audience seemed well pleased with the performance.

Before buying your supply of NEGLIGEE SHIRTS be sure to see those shown by FRANK BYRNS Hat Store. $1.00 up.

FIRE AT BRIDGE WORKS.

A fire in the saw house at the Illinois Steel Bridge Co., plant called out the fire department Friday evening at 9:30 and the blaze was extinguished with small loss to the property. It is thought that some of the sparks which fly from the steel as it is worked lodged in a piece of clothing hanging in one of the cupboards, smoldered for a time and broke into flame.

ATTRACTIVE DRESSES REASONABLY PRICED AT HERMAN'S TODAY.

WILL SPEAK AT HERRIN.

F. E. McDougall, director of ritualistic work for the Odd Fellows of the 26th district, left for Herrin, Ill., Friday afternoon to speak at a gathering of southern Illinois Odd Fellows. He went by way of St. Louis and met Past Grand Master E. P. Saylor, who will speak also at Herrin. Mr. Saylor will talk in the afternoon and Mr. McDougall will give an address on the degree work in the evening.

Knoles still has an unbroken line of spring and summer suits.

WESTMINSTER GUILD MET.

Westminster Guild met Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Wilbert on North Diamond street. A program of great interest was carried out and this was followed by a social hour during which the hostess served excellent refreshments. Mrs. W. A. Evans who recently removed to Springfield came to Jacksonville to attend this meeting.

To the Voters of Morgan County

The special election to choose Judge Owen P. Thompson's successor as Circuit Judge will be held Tuesday, April 28.

The successful candidate at this election will be the presiding judge of the Morgan County Circuit Court.

It is important to this county that he be a man in every way qualified to perform the duties of this high office and one who will give to the court business of this county the time and attention which our large court docket requires.

Every voter of Morgan County should therefore go to the polls next Tuesday and vote.

Hon. Norman L. Jones, of Carrollton, the Democratic nominee is entitled to the support of Morgan County voters. His ability and high standing as a lawyer are not questioned. The fact that at the recent primary his home county of Greene gave him a majority of over 1,700 is as strong a testimonial as could be given any man.

Sangamon and Macoupin Counties each has a resident judge. Mr. Jones's defeat would leave the four smaller counties of the circuit without a resident judge.

We believe a judge living in one of the smaller counties will give to the court business of our county more time and attention than would a judge from one of the larger counties. Mr. Jones has pledged himself to give us all the time he can in order that we may suffer as little as possible from the loss of a resident judge.

We urge the voters of Morgan County to go to the polls next Tuesday and vote for Norman L. Jones.

Democratic Central Committee for Morgan County.
A. D. Arnold, Chairman.
E. P. Brockhouse, Secretary.

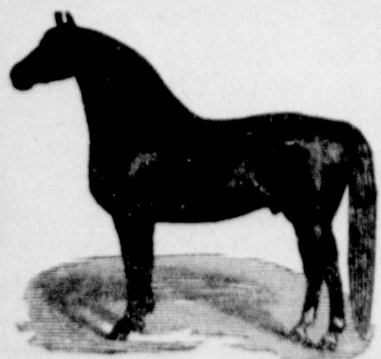

We are authorized to publish the following statement from Judge Francis E. Baldwin, who was Mr. Jones's opponent in the primaries.

The judicial election to choose the successor of Judge Thompson will be held next Tuesday, the 28th. The Democratic nominee, Hon. Norman L. Jones is an able lawyer and will make an excellent judge. I am very desirous that he should receive a large vote in this county and I earnestly request you to vote for him, and to urge your neighbors to do likewise.

Indifference or apathy,—failure to vote—may result in the election of the Republican candidate, who lives in Springfield, thus giving Sangamon County two of the three judges in this circuit. Every Democrat in this county should vote for Mr. Jones. Please do not neglect this important duty.

Very truly yours,
F. E. BALDWIN.

WHITE HALL WON ATHLETIC MEET

WAS VICTOR OVER BEARDSTOWN BY ONE POINT.

Several Records Broken in Annual Event of Illinois Valley High School Athletic Association Meet at Griggsville—Barry First in Declamation.

Standing of Teams.
Points
White Hall	35
Beardstown	34
Roodhouse	26
Quincy	13
Pittsfield	7
Whipple Academy	1
Clayton	0

In the fourth annual meet of the Illinois Valley High School Athletic Association held at Griggsville yesterday, White Hall won first place, Beardstown second and Roodhouse third. In the declamation contest Barry was first with Beardstown second. On account of some question raised about the Jacksonville high school athletics, J. H. S. was not represented in the meet. Jacksonville had no say relative to the entries, Griggsville and Pittsfield having the entire management of the contest.

Whipple Academy only made one point in the meet, Morrison getting third in the high jump. Husted of Roodhouse proved the highest individual winner getting 23 points of the 34 won by his team.

Records Broken.
The meet was exciting from the number of records that were broken, including the following. Pole vault raised from 9 feet 7 inches to 9 feet 10 inches; 50 yard dash, from 6 seconds to 5 1-5 seconds; 100 yard dash from 11 seconds to 10 2-5; discus throw from 106 feet 6 inches to 120 feet 2 inches; shot put from 43 feet to 46 feet 4 inches; hammer throw from 126 feet 8 inches to 154 feet 6 inches; high jump from 5 feet 7 3-4 inches to 5 feet 9 3-5 inches; 220 yard dash from 24 seconds to 23 1-4 seconds; standing broad jump from 9 feet 7 3-4 inches to 10 feet 1 inch; running broad jump from 19 feet 6 inches to 20 feet 4 inches.

The summary of events follows:
Pole vault—First, Buchelt, Beardstown; second, Williams, Quincy; third, Scott, Pittsfield. Height 9 feet 11 inches.

50 yard dash—First, Campbell, White Hall; second, Knight, Beardstown; third, McLamare, Roodhouse. Time 5 1-5 seconds.

100 yard dash—Campbell, White Hall; second, Knight, Beardstown; third, Crum, Beardstown. Time 10 2-5 seconds.

Discus throw—First, Husted, Roodhouse; second, Ebers, Beardstown; third, Dickens, Beardstown. Distance 120 feet, 2 inches.

140 yard dash—First, Roodhouse, White Hall; second, Husted, Beardstown; third, Ballard, Roodhouse. Time 57 3-5 seconds.

Shot put—First, Husted, Roodhouse; second, Ebers, Beardstown; third, Brierly, Griggsville. Distance 46 feet 4 1-4 inches.

Hammer throw—First, Husted, Roodhouse; second, Ebers, Beardstown; third, Barrow, White Hall. Distance 154 feet 9 inches.

880 yard run—First, Tapp, Quincy; second, Vertrees, White Hall; third, Ballard, Roodhouse. Time 2:16 1-5.

High jump—First, Williams, Quincy; second, Kinser, White Hall; third, Morrison, Whipple Academy. 5 feet 9 3-4 inches.

220 yard dash—First, Campbell, White Hall; second, Knight, Beardstown; third, Crum, Beardstown. Time 23 1-5 seconds.

Standing broad jump—Husted, Roodhouse; second, Marrow, White Hall; Kinser, White Hall. Distance 10 feet 1 inch.

Running broad jump—First, Knight, Beardstown; second, Husted, Roodhouse; third, Seely, White Hall. Distance 20 feet 4 inches.

1 mile run—First, Garvin, Pittsfield; second, Vertrees, White Hall; third, N. Garvin, Pittsfield. Time 5 minutes flat.

Relay race—White Hall, first; Beardstown, second; Pittsfield, third.

Declamation Contest.
In the declamation contest which was held in the morning, Miss Ruth Williams of Barry won first place; Miss Jane Kennedy of Beardstown, second; Harry Gelvy of White Hall, third. Whipple Academy was represented by Miss Catherine Capps.

IS TO BE SUPERINTENDENT OF CHICAGO GUN CLUB.

James A. Groves Accepts Position Offered Him.—Will Move Family to Chicago.

James A. Groves returned from Chicago Friday where he accepted the position of superintendent of the Chicago Gun Club and will take up his new work the first of May. The club is located at the corner of 123rd street and Michigan avenue and built at a cost of $40,000. There are over 500 members. Mr. Groves won the place over several candidates for the position. He is now president of the Nichols Park Gun club, a position he has held since its organization several years ago. He expects to return to Jacksonville May 19-20 on the occasion of the Central Illinois Trap Shooters league which meet here. Mr. Groves has a great many friends in Jacksonville who will regret to see him leave but will wish him success in his new work. His family will go to Chicago after the public schools close.

REO THE FIFTH

Now $220 Less

Note that Reo the Fifth—Mr. Olds' great car—sells at a new price this year. We have saved you 16 per cent on the car, equipped.

Some parts—like tires and electric starter—cost us less this year. But most of this saving comes from the fact that all special machinery for building this model has been charged against previous output.

And note that this car—at $220 less—has

The new streamline body
Electric starter and lights
A 35-horsepower engine
Oversize tires—34x4
Dimming searchlights
One-rod control

The Car That Stays New

Nobody doubts that Reo the Fifth is the best-built car in its class. It embodies all Mr. Olds' extremes, based on 27 years of car building.

It takes six weeks to build each car, because of the utter exactness, the countless tests and inspections.

The steel is twice analyzed. The gears are tested for 75,000 pounds per tooth, the springs for 100,000 vibrations.

The car has 15 roller bearings, 190 drop forgings. It has a costly clutch which prohibits all gear clashing. It has the simplest gear-shift in the world.

All driving parts are built one-half stronger than necessary—built to meet the requirements of a 50-horsepower engine.

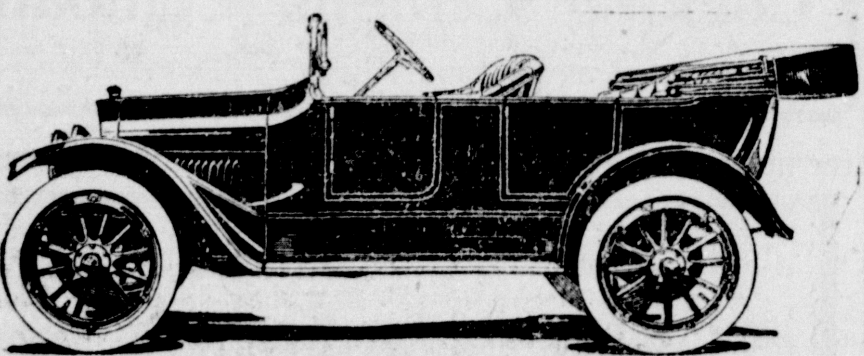

10,000-MILE TESTS.
Test cars with this chassis have for years been kept running at high speed night and day on rough roads. After 10,000 miles of reckless driving the test car is taken apart, and every driving part is required to show up in almost perfect condition.

No other modest-price car has ever been built in this slow, careful, costly way. But the result is a car that stays new. It saves the average user hundreds of dollars in troubles, repairs and upkeep.

Men who know are buying cars like this. The spring demand is always twice the factory output. March sales have broken every record.

We urge men who may want this honest car to come and see it now.

DR. CARSON

Chicago Specialist

In the treatment of Chronic Diseases, will be at the Dunlap Hotel, Jacksonville, Illinois, Wednesday, April 29, 1914, one day only; (Returns every 28 days). Hours, 8 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Fourteenth Successful Year in Jacksonville. Consultation and Examination Free

I treat successfully the cases I undertake, and accept no fee from those who are incurable. That is why I continue my visits year after year, while other specialists make only a few visits and cease to return.

IS THIS THE WAY YOU FEEL? Tired in the morning and easily excited? Are you dizzy or nervous? Pain in the head? Tongue coated? Have you Catarrh—nose stopped up? Gas on the stomach? Hands and feet cold? Pain in the back of the neck? Have you a dull, dragging pain in the back of the body, back of the neck? Have you Rheumatism? Have you Piles? Piles—itching or bleeding? Have you kidney or bladder trouble, lame or weak back, pains in back or joints? Have you any blood disease—scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, bone pains, pale complexion and losing weight?

I invite you to call and investigate the Carson System of the treatment of Chronic Diseases, which I have perfected after fifteen years of experience and study, and you will be convinced that my modern, up to date methods of curing disease are what you need.

Never before has there been a treatment giving such universal satisfaction. Every sufferer is cordially invited to call and secure full details concerning this new treatment free of charge.

REMEMBER DATE OF VISIT. Come early as parlors are always crowded. A friendly call may save you future suffering. It has made life anew to thousands who had been pronounced beyond hope.

C. W. CARSON, M. D., 766 Oakwood Blvd., Chicago, Ill.

After several years of various treatments with patent medicines and doctors, without getting help for stomach and kidney trouble, I became very much discouraged, when I was advised to consult Dr. C. W. Carson, members of the Science and Mathematics, cheerfully recommend him to any who are not well, and want treatment to give them health, without wasting time and money, and suffering as I did, in experiments. He will get them well, if anybody can. Everyone thinks it is wonderful how I have changed in so short a time, under his treatment. Can write me for information.

PENN'S. GREAT RELAY CARNIVAL OPENS TO-DAY

Added Interest Given Because of Oxford Entries—Ten Universities Have Men Pitted Against English Athletes.

Philadelphia, April 24.—Franklin field will tomorrow be the centre of attraction for track and field athletic enthusiasts on both sides of the Atlantic. The occasion will be the 20th annual carnival of relay races and field sports under the University of Pennsylvania auspices, and which this year has been given added interest by the entry of a team representing Oxford University, England.

The Oxford team will participate in the four mile relay race for the championship of the world. Against them will run the pick of the four mile teams of American universities, and, in view of the records of the victors, a new mark for the distance may confidently be expected.

Ten American universities and colleges have entered teams to run against the men from across the water. They are University of Chicago, Harvard University, Cornell University, Ohio State University, University of Pennsylvania, Dartmouth College, Princeton University and Colgate University.

The Oxford team is made up of Arnold N. S. Jackson, who won the mile race at the Olympic games; G. M. Sproule, an Australian Rhodes scholar who has done three miles in 14:34; D. N. Gausson, who also has a remarkable record as a distance runner, and Norman S. Taber, formerly of Brown University, now a Rhodes scholar at Oxford.

While the relay races, particularly the four mile event with its international flavor, will naturally attract most attention, the program provides for much of interest outside of these big college events. A number of colleges which have not entered relay teams will be represented in the special track and field events. These events will include the 100 yard dash, 120 yard hurdle, high jump, broad jump, shot put, hammer throw, discus, javelin, and pole vault.

The entry list shows the largest number of teams ever entered for the various events. In the classified relay races 256 teams are entered and 47 teams will compete in the championships.

The entries for the principal championships are: One mile college championship of America—Pennsylvania, Illinois, Colby, Cornell, Harvard, Michigan, Chicago, Kansas and Notre Dame.

Two mile college championship of America—Princeton, Michigan, Cornell, Dartmouth, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Colby, Kansas, Pennsylvania state and Virginia.

Four mile college championship of the world—Oxford, Harvard, Cornell, Princeton, Chicago, Pennsylvania, Boston College, Colgate, Pennsylvania state and Ohio state.

Freshman college championship of America—Harvard, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania.

High school championship of America—Philadelphia Central, Boston English, Brooklyn, Manual, Boston Commerce, Newark Central and Buffalo Central.

Preparatory School Championship of America—Mercersburg, Lawrenceville and Exeter.

COLLEGE ORATORS IN CONTEST.
Rock Hill, S. C., April 24.—Teams of orators from the leading colleges of the state, accompanied by delegations of students, flocked here today for the annual contest of the South Carolina Interscholastic Oratorical Association. Among the institutions represented were the University of South Carolina, Furman University, Wofford College, Citadel University, Newberry College and the Presbyterian College of South Carolina.

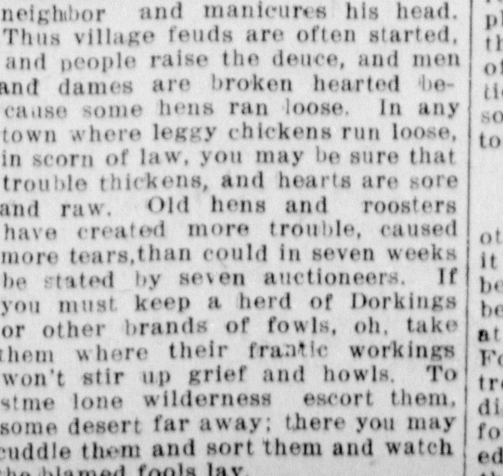

FRENCH MEDAL FOR PEARY.
Paris, April 24.—The Geographical Society of France today made formal award of its gold medal to Read Admiral Robert E. Peary in recognition of his contribution to geographical science by the discovery of the north pole.

GRANT FURTHER SUSPENSION.
Springfield, Ill., April 23.—The state public utilities commission today granted a further suspension until July 1st, of the proposed increase of one cent a hundred pounds in freight rates on grain.

Chickens.

By WALT MASON.

Now man goes forth and makes his garden, a hard and painful grind; and then the crime beyond all pardon destroys his peace of mind. His neighbor keeps a string of chickens, and they inflamed with greed, come o'er and scratch to beat the chickens, and dig up all the seed. And then the man whose wasted labor has set him seeling red, walks o'er to see that hennish neighbor and manures his head. Thus village feuds are often started, and people raise the deuce, and men and dames are broken hearted because some hens ran loose. In any town where leggy chickens run loose, in scorn of law, you may be sure that trouble thickens, and hearts are sore and raw. Old hens and roosters have created more trouble, caused more tears, than could in seven weeks be stated by seven auctioneers. If you must keep a herd of Dorkings or other brands of fowls, oh, take them where their frantic workings won't stir up grief and howls. To some lone wilderness escort them, some desert far away; there you may cuddle them and sort them and watch the blamed fowls fly.

CARRANZA ON THE CAUSE OF MEXICAN REVOLUTION.

The outrages committed by Huerta

the oppression of the poor by the large land owners and the growth of a middle class are the causes of the revolution of the last three years. In Mexico, according to the constitutionalist chief, Gen. Venustiano Carranza, who was interviewed before the recent elections, by a correspondent of the London Times. Carranza may be called the father of the revolution, as he was in the senate of Mexico fifteen years ago trying to smash the Diaz ring, several years before Madero became a public character. It was the aid and example of this stern Spanish gentleman that inspired the first revolt against Diaz, according to the testimony of Francisco I. Madero, himself.

"Huerta outraged the constitution when he overthrew and murdered President Madero," said General Carranza. "He continues to outrage it by attempting to govern despotically as Diaz did, and failing to administer the laws, which are equal to all."

"The land which was formerly divided among the mass of the people, has been seized by a few. The owners of it compel those who are working for them to buy the necessities of life from them alone. They lay a burden of debt upon the poor people and make them virtually slaves, for so long as the people owe them money, they cannot go away."

"Another contributing cause of the revolution is the growth of a middle class. Formerly there was only the rich and the poor. Now there is a class in between which does not like to see the poor suppressed, which knows what democracy and reform mean in other countries and which is resolved to take successive steps toward complete self government."

UNCLE SAM OIL MEN ON TRIAL.

Oklahoma City, Okla., April 24.—A score of defendants, nearly one hundred witnesses and a small army of legal counsel filled the federal court here today in readiness to play their respective parts in what promises to be the most notable trial of its kind ever staged here. The case on trial is known as the Uncle Sam Oil company case, in which the officials of the oil company and various others are being prosecuted by the government under indictments charging them with conspiracy to defraud the government of Osage Indian lands, oil and gas leases in eastern Oklahoma valued at $900,000.

The indictments in the case were first returned by the federal grand jury at Enid, Okla., last June. Later in the year other indictments were found against the same defendants by the grand jury sitting at Lawton.

The defendants in the case are Mr. J. H. Tucker of Kansas City, Kas., president of the Uncle Sam Oil company; A. L. Wilson of Kansas City, Mo., general counsel for the Uncle Sam Oil company; T. J. Leahy of Pawhuska, Okla., former member of the constitutional convention of Oklahoma; William Leahy, a prominent banker of Pawhuska; Wesley M. Dial, former chairman of the Republican state committee of Oklahoma; Edward Brown, former principal chief of the Osage tribe; Bacon Rind, elected principal chief of the Osage tribe; William Plumb, an attorney of Washington, D. C., and three attorneys living in Pawhuska.

JACKSONVILLE WITNESSES

The Names of Jacksonville Persons Familiar to All.

Who are the witnesses?

Residents of Jacksonville who have had kidney backache, kidney ills, bladder ills; who have used Doan's Kidney Pills. These witnesses endorse Doan's.

One Jacksonville resident who speaks is P. J. Meany, blacksmith, 333 North East street, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "When I used Doan's Kidney Pills two or three years ago, they fixed me up in good shape. My kidneys pained me terribly and my back ached, especially when I stooped. The action of my kidneys was irregular. Doan's Kidney Pills not only stopped the pains and aches, but also regulated the kidney action."

MAP OF MEXICO.

Brady Brothers have in their front window a new map of ingenious displayed garden seeds, the work of Charles Godfrey. This time the land of Mexico is shown in outline with the states all separate and the waters of the two oceans marked off with colored paper while miniature ships and soldiers indicate approximately the location of our forces in that vicinity. The whole affair is wonderfully ingenious and shows no small amount of skill.

PIMPLES WOULD BURN AND ITCH

Over Body and Head. Sore Spots on Arm and Shoulders. Scratched Until They Bled. After Using Cuticura Soap and Ointment a Week, Eczema Left Her.

913 S. Hackley St., Muncie, Ind.—"When my little girl was a tiny baby she broke out in little fine pimples here and there over the body and head. They would be about the size of a quarter after they were broken out and would form a scab for a week or more. Then the scabs would begin to peel off. The disease would itch and give her much trouble. As she grew older they would spread until some places would be as large as a half dollar. Her clothes seemed to make the sores burn and itch. The sore spots were on the top of her arm and two on her shoulders. She would scratch them until they would bleed. Sometimes in combing her hair it would come out."

"I used ——— for a while but it did not seem to be any good and I used ——— also without result. She continued to break out with the eczema until I wrote for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and used them. I purchased some more and the sores came off and I could comb them out of her hair and it healed up just finely. After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment a week the eczema left her." (Signed) Mrs. Laura Graves, Nov. 27, 1912.

For treating poor complexion, red, rough hands, and a thin and falling hair, Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have been the world's favorites for more than a generation. Sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Why Is It a Favorite?

There are good reasons why Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a favorite with the mothers of young children. Read what one of them says of it: "There could be no better medicine than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. My children were all sick with whooping cough. One of them was in bed, had a high fever and was coughing up blood. Our doctor gave them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the first dose eased them, and three bottles cured them," says Mrs. R. A. Donaldson, of Lexington, Miss. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

DR. JAMES J. SHEPPARD BURIED AT DIAMOND GROVE CEMETERY

Funeral Party Arrives From the East Friday Morning.—Dr. Sheppard Recognized as One of the Leading Public School Educators of the Country.

The remains of Dr. James J. Sheppard, whose death occurred recently at Morsemere, N. J., arrived in Jacksonville Friday morning over the Wabash. The funeral party included besides Mrs. Sheppard, her father, Charles S. French, J. M. Glynn, of Clarion, Iowa, and Miss Mary E. Glynn, of Chicago, half-brother and half-sister of the deceased, and his long time friend, Dr. A. S. Beaman of New York City. The remains were taken to Reynolds undertaking establishment and at 10:30 o'clock conveyed to Diamond Grove cemetery for interment. Dr. A. B. Morey offered a prayer at the grave. A New York paper contained the following notice of the death of Dr. Sheppard and gave a resume of his extended and important work:

"The death of Dr. James J. Sheppard, principal and organizer of The High School of Commerce, in Morsemere, N. J., was a severe blow to his friends and a sad surprise to the school system. After Dr. Sheppard's death it became known that he had been a sufferer for years from indigestion, and had endured his intimate friends had known it. He was taken ill last January and was so languid that he had to give up his work and remain at home under a doctor's orders. It was quickly discovered that he was suffering from pernicious anemia, a rare disease. From the beginning there was no hope, but this was kept from Dr. Sheppard until a fortnight ago. However, he began to realize that life was slowly but surely ebbing away and he was prepared for the end. It came suddenly but peacefully."

A Strong School Officer.

"The news of the death of Dr. Sheppard caused great surprise and grief in the system. He was universally regarded as one of the three or four strongest men principals in the service and one of the teachers' best and most disinterested advisers. Tributes to his memory came from all departments. President Churchill expressed the sentiment of the teachers by saying that Dr. Sheppard was one of the star principals of the system and one of the star men. 'He was first a gentleman and a scholar,' said Mr. Churchill, 'and he loved boys. He was the spirit of loyalty and enthusiasm and that he communicated to the faculty and pupils. The High School of Commerce is his monument. He was the pioneer in establishing this type of school in New York and it was his tact, ability and foresightedness that made the school a success.' Dr. Walter H. Eddy, the acting principal, paid Dr. Sheppard an equally high tribute, speaking for the school. He spoke of Dr. Sheppard as the one the boys regarded as the father of the school and the faculty as their brother. 'His love of boys,' said Dr. Eddy, 'was his first characteristic. While he was a firm disciplinarian he would step out of the role of principal to help a boy he had been compelled to scold. Many a time he went into his pocket to buy things for boys in the school. Next, the marked characteristic of Dr. Sheppard was his keen analytical mind. If a new course of study was presented to him, he saw in a flash the weak point and in a few words exposed it. I should say that next he was a great organizer. The faculty was united in his support."

Was Born in Illinois.

"The story of Dr. Sheppard's early life is the story of the plucky American boy who started with nothing and achieved success and distinction. He was born in Panola, Ill., in 1868. Early in life he had to depend upon his own efforts and he attended school and taught by turns. He began teaching when he was only sixteen. He taught in Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois. In 1883 he was able to enter the State Normal College at Normal, Ill. Among his classmates were Simon N. Patton, President of the University of Pennsylvania; Professor Charles De Garmo, of Cornell; Professor Frank M. McMurry, of Teachers College; President Edward J. James, of the North Western University; President William J. Morison, of the Brooklyn Teachers' Association; Dr. C. C. Wilson, vice-principal of the Jersey City High School, and others. There were fifteen in that class who paid their own way. Mr. Morrison recalled the high regard everyone had for Mr. Sheppard and the expectation entertained for his success. In 1891, Mr. Sheppard entered the sophomore year at Harvard University without examination and was the classmate of Dr. James Sullivan, principal of the Brooklyn Boys' High School, and Dr. Arthur M. Wolfson, principal of the Julia Richman High School. Dr. Sullivan said that in college Mr. Sheppard was a high standing student, very much liked by all who knew him and a credit to Harvard. After graduation Dr. Sheppard was appointed principal of the high school in Decatur, Ill., which position he held three years. He was also President of the High School Section of the State Teachers Association.

"When John D. Buchanan was appointed principal of the De Witt Clinton School, he asked Mr. Sheppard to become teacher of history. In September, 1905, he was selected to be principal of the school that was to be organized under the name of the High School of Commerce. It was a difficult task to establish the school because New York was still full of people who were prejudiced against the high schools. But Dr. Sheppard proved himself to be the man for the work. Beginning with only 600 boys he had 3000 at the end of his life. He had the satisfaction of knowing that in later years nearly all the members of the graduating class were of appointment even as soon as they received their diplomas. Dr. Sheppard's last work was to plan an advanced night school, the establishment of which was conditioned upon the grant of the necessary money.

Held Many Honorary Positions.

"Dr. Sheppard also did graduate work at Columbia and the New York University. In teachers' interests he was one of the most devoted workers. He was one of the leaders who secured the passage of the Davis Law. He held more honorary positions than any man of his day. He was president of the Interborough Council of Teachers, the New York High School Teachers' Association, the High School Principals' and the New York City Teachers' Association. He was also a member of the National Geographic Society, a fellow of the American Geographic Society, the Harvard Club, the Graduates Club, and other organizations. His last position of honor was member of the Teachers' Council. It was characteristic of him that he declined to be a candidate for President and urged the election of a grade teacher. In 1905 he was married to Mrs. Rena French Masters.

"The funeral was held in the Manhattan Congregational church, Broadway and 76th Street, Monday afternoon and there was a great outpouring. State Commissioner John Huston Findley came down from Albany to deliver the principal eulogy. All grades of the schools were represented. The church was crowded. City Superintendent Maxwell and Associate Superintendents Melleney, Shallow, Stevens and District Superintendent Bardwell were present. All the high school principals with a few exceptions were there in two rows. Commissioner Ellert came for the Board of Education. Many strangers were there. The entire faculty of the school and a large representation of the boys were also present. Dr. Finley read quotations about the great teacher, paying his own tribute in poetic language. The Rev. Dr. H. A. Simpson, the pastor, spoke of Dr. Sheppard's strong character and noble work. The Rev. David Willie, offered the prayer. The congregation joined with the boys in singing 'Dear Commerce' which Dr. Sheppard adapted from 'Fair Harvard.' 'Dear Commerce, thy sons all reverently join

In deep love and devotion to thee.' That song was never sung with more feeling than by those who there said farewell to James J. Sheppard.

Interested Others in Education.

The same paper said editorially: In the death of Dr. James J. Sheppard, principal and founder of the High School of Commerce, the city lost one of its strongest principals and most devoted servants. His death will be all the more severely felt at this time because he more than any other pioneer in his field brought about co-operation between the Chamber of Commerce and commercial work in the system. The High School of Commerce is Dr. Sheppard's monument and it is a consolation to his friends to realize how well he was rewarded for his courage and foresight. The High School of Commerce was opened only a dozen years ago with an attendance of about 600. The experiment was looked on with askance by the business world and ridiculed by not a few. But Dr. Sheppard not only lived to see an attendance of 3,000 but also to see practically all his graduates in recent years placed in positions as soon as they received their diplomas. He also saw his school accepted as a type by other systems.

In the success of this school the power of the schoolmaster was exemplified by more ways than one. In the eyes of the outside world, Dr. Sheppard's strength was evidenced by his ability to interest leading financiers and business men in commercial education. At meetings of the Chamber of Commerce they learned to appreciate his sound business judgment, analytical mind and his grasp of the possibilities of commercial education. Dr. Sheppard will always be remembered as one of the leaders of his time who gave point and direction to the cause of commercial education and rescued it from staying in the shop of the stenographer, typewriter and bookkeeper. He was both ideal and practical. He organized a staff of teachers who were with him an enthusiastic force in teaching boys the ideals of business and to realize that the American people want their business world conducted on the basis of honesty and honor. He was as strong on the ethical side as he was on the practical.

Dr. Sheppard's personal standing in his profession was evidenced by the many honors bestowed on him. More fell to him than any other teacher in the system. Whenever there was speculation among Commissioners and teachers over the next City Superintendent Dr. Sheppard's name was always mentioned as that of a man who had the ability, the leadership, strength of character for that position. Yet he was one of the quietest and most unassuming of men. It was, however, Dr. Sheppard to whom the majority of leaders in school interests looked for the final word. His opinion usually carried the greatest weight in teachers' councils and it is to be also remembered more than one ill-advised move that was never heard of by the school world. That is a necessary chapter to add to the record of a man who was one of New York's greatest schoolmasters and best citizens.

About Rheumatism.

People are learning that it is only a waste of time and money to take medicine internally for chronic and muscular rheumatism, and about 99 out of a 100 cases are one or the other of these varieties. All that is really necessary to afford relief is to apply Chamberlain's Liniment freely. H. Miller, L. Evansport, Ind., writes: "I have used Chamberlain's Liniment for rheumatism and it always gives relief."

PRESENTS STATE MINING FACTS
Illinois is producing 62 million tons of coal per year; more than one-eighth of all the bituminous coal mined in the United States. The safety of the miners and the efficiency of the mining methods employed in the State are therefore matters of national concern.

The Department of Mining Engineering of the University of Illinois, the State Geological Survey, and the U. S. Bureau of Mines have cooperated during the past three years to study Illinois mining conditions. The information collected at 100 mines is published in district reports. In Bulletin No. 2, Coal Mining Practice in District VIII (Danville), by S. O. Andros, are discussed causes of accidents of miners in Vermilion and Edgar counties, loss of natural resources by wasteful methods of blasting and mining, use of steel and concrete as substitutes for timber in the mines and other phases of underground mining. The bulletin also contains a description of the methods of removing the overburden from a coal bed by steam shovel, a system of mining which has been highly developed in this district.

Copies of the bulletin may be obtained by addressing State Coal Mining Investigations, Urbana, Illinois.

DON'T TRUST CALOMEL

THOUSANDS EXPERIENCE BAD AFTER EFFECTS FROM THIS DANGEROUS DRUG.

A Safe Vegetable Substitute is Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets for the Liver.

Dr. F. M. Edwards, a prominent physician of Ohio, has discovered a laxative and liver toner in a combination of vegetable materials mixed with olive oil, which is in effect almost exactly like calomel, except that there are none of the bad after effects.

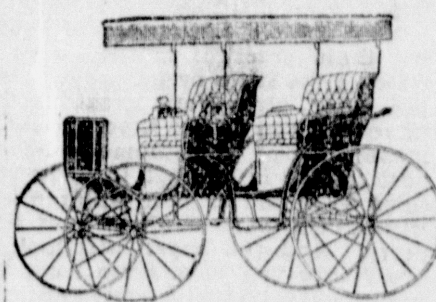

Dr. Edwards has long been a foe of calomel, though he recognized its value along with its dangers.

His distrust of the uncertain drug eventually started him, years ago, towards experiments with the view of discovering a substitute, and he has been for several years in possession of the long-sought-for combination, which is in the shape of a little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablet.

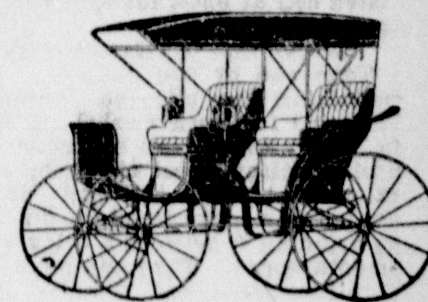

The results of 17 years' experience and practice are embodied in the marvelous Little Tablets.

They are called Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. And their effect on the liver has been the means of relief to many of Dr. Edwards' regular patients as well as to thousands of others who have suffered and were afraid of calomel.

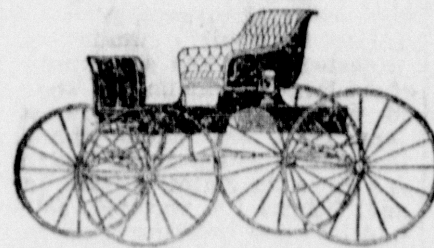

There is no necessity when you take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, by following them up with nasty, sickening, gripi g salts, or castor oil, as you do after taking calomel. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, Ohio.

Weak Heart

Many people suffer from weak hearts. They may experience shortness of breath on exertion, pain over the heart, or dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals or their eyes become blurred, the heart is sufficiently strong to pump blood to the extremities, and they have cold hands and feet, or poor appetite because of weakened blood supply to the stomach. A heart tonic and alterative should be taken which has no bad after-effect. Such is which contains no dangerous narcotics or alcohol.

It helps the human system in the constant manufacture of rich, red blood. It helps the stomach to assimilate or take up the proper elements from the food, thereby helping digestion and curing dyspepsia, heart-burn and many uncomfortable symptoms, stops excessive tissue waste in convalescence from fevers; for the run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people, the "Discovery" is refreshing and vitalizing.

In liquid or tablet form at most drug stores or send 50 one-cent stamps for trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

MRS. MABEN WAS MADE WELL

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Wants Other Suffering Women To Know It.

Murfreesboro, Tenn.—"I have wanted to write to you for a long time to tell you what your wonderful remedies have done for me. I was a sufferer from female weakness and displacement and I would have such tired, worn out feelings, sick headaches and dizzy spells. Doctors did me no good so I tried the Lydia E. Pinkham Remedies—Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash. I am now well and strong and can do all my own work. I owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and want other suffering women to know about it."—Mrs. H. E. MABEN, 211 S. Spring, St., Murfreesboro, Tenn.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Why Lose Hope.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embrocation in our "Mother's Friend" in which thousands of women have the most unbounded confidence. They have used it and know. They tell of its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoided those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin to render it amenable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes and great physical relief is the result as expressed by a host of happy mothers who write from personal experience.

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as "Mother's Friend" has been in use many years, has been given the most severe tests under most all trying conditions and is recommended by women who to-day are grandmothers and who in their earlier years learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women. "Mother's Friend" is declared by a multitude of women to be just what expectant motherhood requires.

You can obtain "Mother's Friend" at almost any drug store. Get a bottle to-day and then write for our little book so useful to expectant mothers.

Address Bradfield Regulator Co., 512 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

What is said herein of "Mother's Friend" is but a repetition of the thoughts expressed by thousands of happy mothers who have successfully used this splendid external application.

INOCULATING SOIL FOR ALFALFA CROP

SEVERAL METHODS ARE BEING USED WITH SUCCESS.

Work is Simple but Wholly Necessary If Farmer Expects to Get the Right Kind of Stand—The Glue Method Has Many Advocates—Killing Flies Now Will Prevent Wastes

Alfalfa to live must be inoculated with the bacteria that live in the alfalfa root tubercles. No farmer would expect alfalfa to grow without sowing the seed, but thousands of farmers, by some unknown blind faith, attempt to grow alfalfa without inoculation. Fortunately, some of our fields are naturally inoculated, so these are not all failures, but how foolish to risk $4 worth of seed per acre, as well as a lot of hard work, when the field can be inoculated for less than 50 cents per acre. A six ton crop of alfalfa requires 300 pounds of nitrogen, while a 66 bushel crop of corn gets from the soil only 100 pounds. Without inoculation the best we can hope for is a two-ton crop from the 100 pounds of nitrogen that the soil gives up. To divide this 100 pounds of nitrogen among the three cuttings will mean that the plants will do so poorly that weeds will destroy the crop.

Inoculation With Soil.
Inoculate the land some time before seeding. This can be done by applying soil from an old alfalfa field or by taking the soil five or six inches deep from where the sweet clover grows. The soil can be spread by hand. It can be spread on a large acreage by hitching four horses to two sections of a harrow. On top of the harrow put several planks. A man with a tub of inoculated soil rides the harrow and sows the inoculated soil just in front of the harrow, while another man drives the horses. Spread 200 to 300 pounds of inoculated soil by this method. Ten to fifteen acres can easily be inoculated per day by the man taking turns sowing the soil. Again, the manure spreader can be used to good advantage in inoculating the land. Put five or six inches of soil into the spreader, setting it to spread three loads per acre. Fasten one section of the harrow with a log chain to the rear of the spreader, to immediately cover the inoculated soil. In this way three loads of inoculated soil covers an acre. One man should easily inoculate four acres per day, if the haul is not too great. It is mighty important to cover the inoculated soil at once, for sunlight kills bacteria.

Inoculation by Glue Method.
Take one or two gallons of soil, containing the nitrogen gathering bacteria, for each bushel of alfalfa seed. (This may be found beneath healthy sweet clover or alfalfa plants.) Dry this soil in the shade, then make it into a fine dust by grinding it between a brick and a smooth board. Take one pound of furniture glue and dissolve it in three gallons of water. Wet the alfalfa seed with the solution (it will require about one quart of solution per bushel of seed), then add the dust, mix well so that every seed is covered with the dust, then dry, and the seed is ready for sowing.

The entire process must be accomplished in the shade, as bright sunlight is fatal to the bacteria. Immediately cover the seed by harrowing, as sunlight will kill the bacteria. Seed while slightly moist, as soil adheres best then.

Caution.
"Nitragin" and other commercial cultures are being offered on the market at exorbitant prices. These cultures are far less reliable than the methods above given. Don't blame your dealer for offering these products, as he has no better way of knowing their value than you have. Put this extra $2.00 per acre into seed, and seed a larger field of alfalfa, is the advice of your experiment station.

Kill Flies Now.
One fly killed now means a million less enemies to public health next summer. Flies not only breed disease, but they are careless as to where they leave it. They will go from their birthplace, usually a manure pile, to the dining room and kitchen; they will feed upon dead animals and go to the bedroom; they will play in 101 filthy places and then have the impudence to enter your house to rest for the night. The number of flies about a house or in a town is in direct relation to the cleanliness of the place. Since they breed in rubbish, manure and all other places of filth, the most important duty to prevent fly danger is to clean up. By doing this and killing every fly about now, more than half the battle of fighting off typhoid fever, tuberculosis and other contagious diseases, which flies carry, will be won. And it will be won without a great deal of trouble or hard work. Swat the deadly fly now.

DECOMPOSITION PROCESSES IN BUTTER EXPLAINED

Poor Quality Deteriorates More Rapidly Than That of Better Class—One Kind of Decomposition Results from Exposure to Sunlight.

By J. M. Barnhart, Dairy Department University of Illinois.
The best of butter slowly decomposes when kept under the most favorable conditions. This change is thought to be produced by the action of certain micro-organisms upon the butter fat. Average butter contains from 80 to 85 per cent butter fat, which is made up of chemical compounds called glycerides.

Glycerides may be regarded as combinations of glycerine with certain organic acids known as fatty acids. Butter fat contains about 12 1/2 per cent of glycerine in combination with these acids. For the benefit of those who are not acquainted with the fatty acids suffice it to say that these acids are related to acetic acid, the important constituent of vinegar. These relationships range from butyric acid, a "half brother" of acetic, to oleic acid, a "forty-second cousin."

As mentioned above, it is believed that certain micro-organisms, some of which are moulds others bacteria, attack the glycerides of the butter and decompose them. This process of decomposition consists in the continued splitting up of the glycerides into glycerine and the free fatty acids. Some of these acids are volatile, that is to say, they readily pass off in the form of vapor. It is these volatile fatty acids, particularly butyric acid, that give the characteristic rancid taste and odor of decomposing butter. The rapidity and extent of the decomposition form of casein and milk sugar, left in the butter at the disposal of the organisms. For this reason poor butter which contains comparatively large amounts of these substances, deteriorates more rapidly than good butter.

The exposure to direct sunlight for a length of time causes butter fat to undergo another form of decomposition. In this case complex transformations take place as a result of which the butter acquires a fatty taste and the color becomes bleached. This process is distinguished from the biological decomposition in that there is no development of a rancid taste or smell.

Under the usual conditions, however, both transformations take place side by side with the micro-organisms producing the larger shares of the decomposition.

IT HAPPENED IN ILLINOIS.

(Come now—many are sending excellent anecdotes of the old times. Join it.)

The first log cabin in Piatt county was the home of John Piatt, great grandfather of Mr. William F. Lodge, who now owns it. The way the cabin came to be built is interesting.

In the second decade of the last century, plans were made to move the Kickapoo Indians from this side of the Mississippi to Iowa. As they were scattered through several states, the projected task was appalling. One of the largest communities was camped where Monticello now stands. John Piatt was among the agents sent out to gather these Indians. Up and down the states of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois he traveled collecting Redskins and bringing them to Monticello. He hired them for a keg of rum to cut down the logs to make a cabin for himself as agent, but they demanded another keg to help him through the work of building the same. No rum, no cabin it was—that is, for two or three years. Finally, however, the cabin was built. In it the first treaty with the Indians was signed. Abraham Lincoln kept it, that cabin, also the first governor of the state.

The county was named for John Piatt and he was its first sheriff. And as he had the first log cabin, his son had the first frame house. His son brought the carpenter to build the house from New York. This frame house is now Mr. Lodge's summer home and is called "The Crest Club." The cabin is used for overflow or for an occasional pig roast, as the great brick oven built into the chimney at the side, gives an opportunity to demonstrate that life had its pleasures in the good old times.

Many things about the frame house are notable, the doors especially so, because they are hand-made of black walnut, from the famous "Coffin Tree." This was an enormous black walnut log on the place that furnished material for coffins for all people who died in Piatt county for 35 years. It was so used because it split with an almost perfectly straight grain. When a coffin was needed a slab of sufficient size was given off, split into boards, and planed by hand. The doors of the frame house were made in the same way. The lock on one of the doors was the first of the kind in the county, being brought from New York in the builder's coat pocket.

The historic old plans are kept sacredly by the present owner, Mr. William Lodge. The houses are on a high bank of the Sangamon, some 40 feet above the water. A little below the cabin skirting the edge of the bluffs, one may in very early spring when only the first and bravest green shows, find the Dwarf White Trillium, a dainty flower-tossitude that is disappearing as rapidly as the brave old folks that remember the early days.

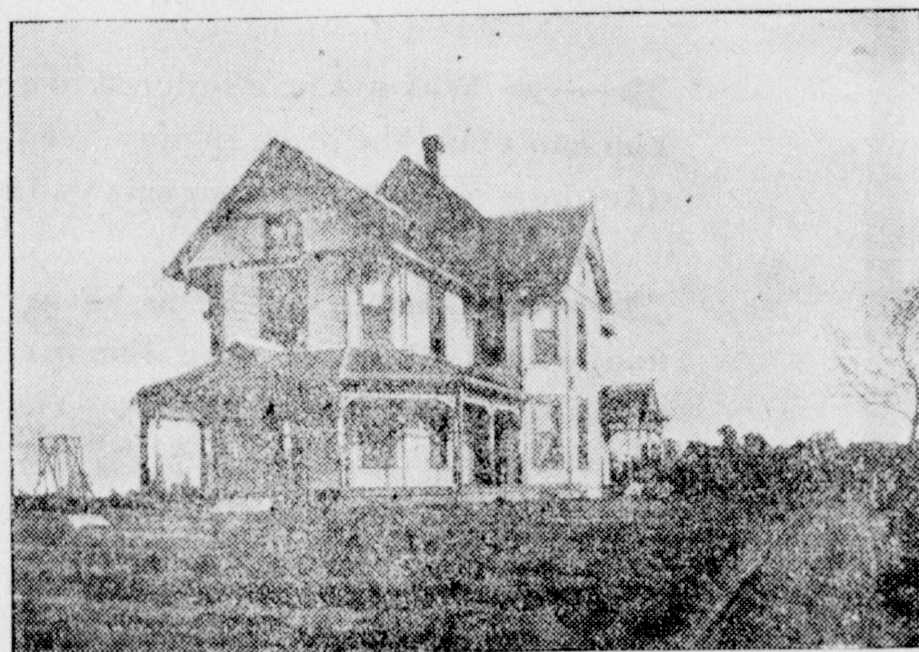

BEAUTIFYING THE FARM SURROUNDINGS

SHRUBS AND TREES RIGHTLY PLANTED HAVE DOUBLE VALUE.

Give Pleasure and Will Pay In Dollars and Cents When the Sale Time Comes—Front Yard Improvements Help the Whole Neighborhood—The "Illinois Way" Is Explained.

By Wilhelm Miller, University of Illinois.
(First of a series on this important topic; it is also one in the series on "Improving the Farm Home.")

Nobody can afford to have bare and ugly home grounds. It is bad business. Of course, we do not commonly take a business view of our homes; we think of home in terms of sentiment. For we all want the best there is in life, and we know we

WHAT WE SEE TOO OFTEN IN ILLINOIS

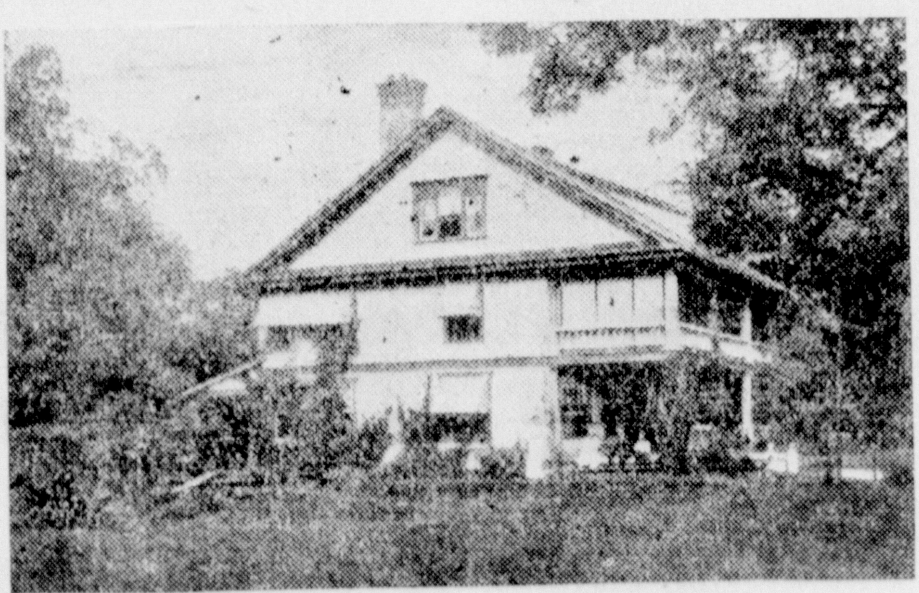

A wooden building covered with meaningless ornamentation and gaudy paints, and without a single tree or shrub to make it look at home. To fit the country, a house should be long and low; this is tall and narrow—a total misfit. Country houses should not be built on city models. (This censored sham and firetrap cost over $5,000.)

can raise better children if they have beautiful surroundings. But, granting that we all have the best sentiment in the world, we cannot escape the business side. For instance, we all have to consider the cost of making a lawn, of fertilizing and planting.

Now, there are two ways of handling these practical matters, one of which gives little or no profit, while the other gives very great profits. Of course, you do not expect to make money out of your home—you expect to live in it—but the day will come when you or your children will wish to sell part of all of your property. And the buyer will look at everything you have done from the cold, unsympathetic viewpoint of hard cash value. The man of wealth the ground, and they increase in value every year.

New Type Needed.
We want something better than the type we see everywhere in Illinois—the wooden, censored house, that is loaded with gingerbread, painted in a half dozen gaudy colors, and without a single tree or shrub to reconcile it with natural surroundings. (See Fig. 1.) Our first job is to build houses that will fit the prairie climate, soil, labor conditions, life, and landscape, as does Joseph E. Wing's house in Ohio. (See Fig. 2.) His house fits the country because it is long and low—not tall and narrow, as city houses have to be. It fits the labor conditions, because it is a servantless house, arranged to save the housewife's steps, and easy to care for with such devices as the vacuum cleaner, powerwasher, mangle, and other apparatus described by Mrs. Frank McKelvey in recent articles in the "Corn Belter," or by Mrs. Eugene Davenport in "Possibilities of the Country Home." (This pamphlet may be obtained free of charge by addressing a request to the Illinois Agricultural Experiment Station.) The Illinois farmhouse must be better adapted to our climate who indulges every personal whim, and makes an eccentric place, will lose a lot of money. On the other hand, if you leave your place barren it may be absolutely unsalable when the time comes, or you will get less than it is worth. But, if your farm is sensibly planted, you can get a bigger profit for the money you put into trees and shrubs than for the same money on house, barn, or hogs. Then old trees, that cost you nothing to plant, may bring you a million-dollar buyer. Ten dollars spent on shrubs and vines planted against the foundation of your house may add $100 to the cash selling value.

WHAT WE WANT TO SEE OFTEN IN ILLINOIS

Front Yard Improvements.

It may be much more important to spend $100 on a bathroom; but, for one person who sees the $100 you spend on plumbing or interior decoration, there are thousands of passers-by who see the $100 spent in your front yard. If you spend that $100 in the ordinary way of beautifying the farm you will get back not one single cent. If you spend it in the "Illinois Way" you cannot help increasing the cash value of salability of your farm, because permanent trees are worth, for beauty alone, $1 a square inch in cross section of their trunk three feet above and promising to do some permanent ornamental planting within a year. Mention the "Corn Belter" and ask for Circular 170.)

INSURANCE WORK MAKES GREAT DEMANDS

SUCCESS IS BASED ON INTELLIGENCE AND CHARACTER.

Financial Importance of Insurance Business Exceeded Only By That of the Railroads—Method and Management of Companies Presents Great Field for Study.

By Isaac Miller Hamilton, President of the Federal Life Insurance Co., Chicago.

(Abstract of an address at University of Illinois).
Work in any one of the several departments of a life insurance company to be really successful, and I take it my topic is intended to apply to successful work, requires a high degree of character and intelligence. Without these essentials no genuine or lasting success is possible in life insurance. These essentials plus good health, industry, sufficient determination and proper education, training fit one to achieve a marked degree of success in any one of the departments in a life insurance company and to receive all the rewards and emoluments properly incident thereto. Spasmodic or temporary success seemingly is achieved occasionally in life insurance by those of indifferent character and mediocre intelligence, but it is a spurious kind of success, comes largely from improper training or no training or self training, dishonors him who attains it and should be shunned by all honorable men.

Presents Great Possibilities.

When we consider the enormous volume of legal reserve insurance transacted in the United States and realize fully that in financial importance it is exceeded only by the railroads, it being nearly certain to pass them in the next decade, and that many living remember the enactment of the first statute in this country pertaining to legal reserve life insurance, we can understand the lack of knowledge and training of many of those heretofore engaged in the business and the errors and prejudices that arose therefrom. It now generally is conceded, I believe, that legal reserve life insurance is doing acceptably the greatest social service known to history. In considering the development of the science and its work we should not forget the great credit due the pioneers in this work for the difficulties under which they labored in blazing the trails which benefit us and which we today follow and enjoy. Neither should we censure them too much for utilizing all possible aids in building up and developing the work.

Some Improved Methods.

With the development of the science and its work has come both the determination and the opportunity to improve the work not only by discarding obsolete methods and unworthy or incompetent workers, but by devising new and improved methods, by welcoming new and helpful laws, by aiding in the dissemination of information of the science among the people generally by encouraging the study of the science in all reputable institutions of learning wherever possible and by attracting to its service those of the highest type of character and intelligence, specially educated and trained to apply their abilities systematically to the service of this science. This service has become a distinct profession. Its successful follower must be not only reliable and capable, but his success will be proportionate to his love for his fellow man and to his enjoyment of the knowledge that his service is helping humanity.

No better educational training can be given the student of life insurance than an intimate insight into the methods and management of life insurance companies.

The Principal Departments.

Life insurance companies as a rule are systematized into principal departments, as follows: Executive department, financial department, actuarial department, medical department, legal department, secretary's department, advertising department and agency department. Some times departments are subdivided and sometimes they are combined. The duties and responsibilities of these various departments are in a degree indicated by their names. Certain fundamentals of education and training are applicable and necessary to success in any and all of these departments. The broader and more thorough the education and training the greater will be the opportunity and success in any one of these departments, assuming like ability, habits, energy and pleasing personality. As the most important requisite for success in life insurance the student should be taught to be absolutely honest, because frequently he is dealing with those unversed in insurance and they must be able to rely upon the honesty of his statements. It should be impressed upon the student at an early stage in his educational training that he will be called upon in his contact with the public to act in an advisory capacity and that he should not at any time allow any personal interest or profit to influence him in his advice. Next in order and but slightly less in importance is accuracy. No difference how well intentioned and honest an insurance man's advice may be it may prove very expensive and harmful if not based on accurate knowledge. It may be said for life insurance, perhaps of every phase and department of it that it is enjoyable work, even for the humblest clerk, and usually

AGRICULTURE METHODS IN INDIA DESCRIBED

System of Tenantry Prevails There With Cordial Relationships—Farmers Slow to Adopt New Methods and Combat Many Difficulties.

By S. K. Roy, Student in Agriculture, Class of 1914, University of Illinois.

No account of agriculture in India is complete without a description of the Indian farmer and farm life. The average Indian farmer is a man who is the center of a farm of 20 to 30 acres of land. He has tower k hard-earned reasons. Some of the important ones which the writer can recall just now are: First, he has not the advantages of improved farm implements and machinery; second, lack of knowledge; third, uncertainty or insufficient amount of rainfall, which necessitates watering by irrigation; fourth, he has to support more members in the family. He is very slow in taking up new ideas and follows the footsteps of his ancestors. He leads a very simple life, quite different from that of his American brother-farmer. His house is not very expensive, though cozy. His family consist of wife and children, who help him in his field work.

The system of farming in India is what is known as tenant farming. The farmer acquires some acres (20 to 50, from the landlord and pays rent for the use of them annually and continue to be his tenant from year to year. The landlord is very just in his demands and does not in any way overtax him. Generation after generation I have seen them continue to be tenants under the same family landlord. On account of this long established relation between landlord and tenant farmer, each is ready to help the other in time of need. It is a peculiar thing to notice that on the occasion of some particular events in the family of the landlord, as during a marriage ceremony or some festivals, almost all the tenants, being notified of this fact, would come to the landlord with the intention of rendering any service that he needs on that occasion. A peculiar thing is that they do not take a single cent for services thus rendered. This goes to prove the mutual good feeling and relationship existing between the two parties.

In spite of all this, the condition of agriculture of today is not what it should be. The old order should be changed, giving place to a new one. India cannot afford to go on along old lines. In order to put herself in the front rank of nations who are agriculturally known as superiors she will have to introduce the scientific methods which will not only make her produce more yields and thus better the condition of farmers in particular and that of the nation in general, but also give her sons the knowledge of improved and scientific methods of agriculture.

Climate.

India embraces a variety of climates, ranging from mild to extreme climate and growing of crops varies accordingly. In Bengal, which has a moist warm climate, the staple crop is rice, which forms the chief cereal food of the teeming millions. In north central, which has a moderate climate, rice and wheat are the chief crops, and in northern India, which has rather an extreme climate (in winter it is considerably cold and in summer hot) the principal crop is wheat, which is the staple food of the people. Climate has a direct bearing with rainfall, so these two go side by side.

FEEDING PHOSPHORUS TO VARIOUS SOILS

GROUND ROCK PHOSPHATE IS THE MOST ECONOMICAL FORM.

Steamed Bone Meal and Acid Phosphate are Effective But Too Costly—Phosphate and Limestone May Be Applied at Any Time—Right Use of Legume Plants Brings Certain Benefits.

By Professors Hopkins, Mosler, Pettit and Readhead, in Knox County Soil Report No. 6.
On all lands deficient in phosphorus (except on those susceptible to serious erosion by surface washing or gullying) apply that element in considerably larger amounts than are required to meet the actual needs of the crops desired to be produced. The abundant information thus far secured shows positively that fine-ground natural rock phosphate can be used successfully and very profitably, and clearly indicates that this material will be the most economical form of phosphorus to use in all ordinary systems of permanent, profitable soil improvement. The first application may well be one ton per acre, and subsequently about one-half ton per acre every four or five years should be applied, at least until the phosphorus content of the plowed soil reaches 2,000 pounds per acre, which may require a total application of from three to five or six tons per acre of raw phosphate containing 12 1/2 per cent of the element phosphorus.

Steamed bone meal and even acid phosphate may be used in emergencies, but it should always be kept in mind that phosphorus delivered in Illinois costs about 3 cents a pound in raw phosphate (direct from the mine in car load lots), but 10 cents a pound in steamed bone meal, and about 12 cents a pound in acid phosphate, both of which cost too much per ton to permit their common purchase by farmers in car load lots, which is not the case with limestone or raw phosphate.

Phosphorus and the Soil.

Phosphorus once applied to the soil remains in it until removed in crops, unless carried away mechanically by soil erosion. (The loss by leaching is only about 1 1/2 pounds per acre per annum, so that more than 150 years would be required to leach away the phosphorus applied to one ton of raw phosphate.)

The phosphate and limestone may be applied at any time during the rotation, but a good method is to apply the limestone after plowing and work it into the soil in preparing the seed bed for wheat, oats, rye or barley, where clover is to be seeded; while phosphate is best plowed under with farm manure, clover or other green manures, which serve to liberate the phosphorus.

A Temporary Substitute.

Until the supply of decaying organic matter has been made adequate, on the poorer types of upland (timber and gray prairie) soils some temporary benefits may be derived from the use of soluble salt or mixture of salts, such as kainit, which contains both potassium and magnesium in soluble form and also some common salt (sodium chloride). About 600 pounds per acre of kainit applied and turned under with the raw phosphate will help to dissolve the phosphorus as well as to furnish available potassium and magnesium, and for a few years such use of kainit will no doubt be profitable on lands deficient in organic matter, but the evidence thus far secured indicates that its use is not absolutely necessary and that it will not be profitable after adequate provision is made for decaying organic matter, since this will necessitate returning to the soil either all produce except the grain (in grain farming) or the manure produced in live stock farming. (Where hay or straw is sold, manure should be bought.)

Using Legumes.

On soils which are subject to surface washing, including especially the yellow silt loam of the upland timber area, and to some extent the yellow gray silt loam, and the other more rolling areas, the supply of minerals in the subsoil and the subsoil (which gradually renew the surface soil) tends to provide for a low grade system of permanent agriculture if some use is made of legume plants, as in long rotations with much pasture, because both the minerals and nitrogen are thus provided in some amount almost permanently; but where such lands are farmed under such a system, not more than two or three grain crops should be grown during a period of ten or twelve years, the land being kept in pasture most of the time; and where the soil is acid, a liberal use of limestone, as top dressings if necessary, and occasional dressing with clover will benefit both the pasture and indirectly the grain crops.

STOMACH SUFFERERS! READ THIS

So many stomach sufferers have been benefited by a simple prescription of vegetable oils which cured a Chicago druggist of chronic stomach liver and intestinal trouble of years' standing that we want you surely to try this remedy. It is known as Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy. One dose will convince you. It usually gives wonderful relief within 24 hours—even in the most stubborn cases. Mayr's Wonderful Stomach Remedy is now sold here by Armstrong's Drug Store—Adv.

War and War News

Bullets Are Flying--History is Being Made. The Flag Is Once More Raised Over Revolution Torn-Mexico

Over leased wire directly into the Journal office, bulletins and stories of the war are coming as fast as lightning operators can send. At the front, at Washington, on the border and with the fleet, Associated Press correspondents are sending war news as it is being made.

These messages are being rushed into type up to four in the morning. You get the developments of the day and night at your breakfast table. Chicago papers reaching Jacksonville in the morning are printed at eleven o'clock the night before.

Out of Town Subscribers

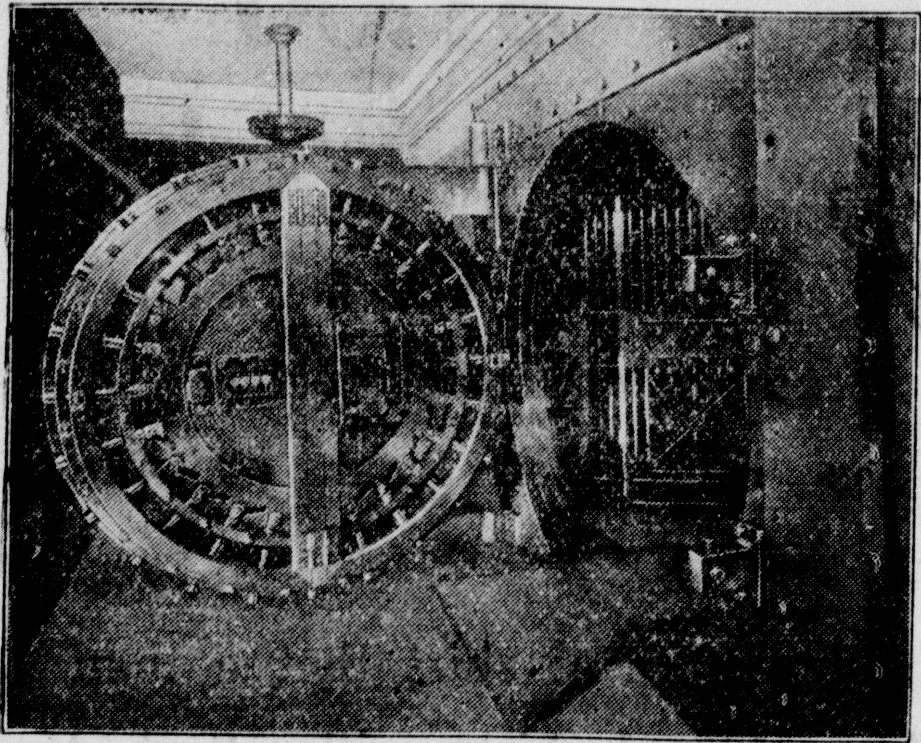

Remember, the morning paper printed at 4 a. m. reaches you the same morning in the same mail as the afternoon paper of the day before printed at 3 p. m.

JOURNAL EXTRAS

This paper will not issue extras unless the news justifies them. When you hear newsboys crying "EXTRA JOURNAL" you may rest assured it contains important developments.

The Ayers Safe Deposit Vault

A Safe Deposit Box is not a luxury, but a necessity to the owner of stocks, bonds, deeds, mortgages, insurance policies and other valuable papers.

Anxiety about jewelry and silversware not in use is dispelled when they are in a Safe Deposit Vault.

It may be of interest to know that in the construction of the vault there are more than 380,000 pounds of steel and the door itself weighs 14 tons.

To rent a Safe Deposit Box in this vault costs less than one cent a day.

Private rooms for the examination of papers are provided for the convenience of patrons.

UNCERTAIN OUTLOOK TENDS TO DULLER TRADE CONDITIONS

Trade Shows No Influence of Warmer Weather or of Early Prospects For Good Crops.

New York, April 24.—Bradstreet's tomorrow will say:

"Aside from an improvement noted in retail trade west, northwest and southwest, the result of warmer more springlike weather and flattering early crop prospects trade and industry generally has not shown any particular change this week.

"Indeed the quieter conditions heretofore ruling have been rather accentuated by the uncertainty evident as to the outlook for war or peace and the situation broadly speaking, shows few new developments."

Dun's Weekly Review.

New York, April 24.—Dun's review tomorrow will say:

"General business is not disturbed by the Mexican situation but temporary unsettlement prevailed in financial markets. Prices of securities fluctuated sharply at times. Political influences produced some effect upon rates for money which advanced slightly.

"Changes in strictly mercantile conditions are of mixed character with the backward spring tending to hold progress in check.

"Failures this week numbered 333 in the United States against 307 last year and 40 in Canada compared with 46."

Knoles sells only the best of goods but his prices are right.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Keziah Stockton passed away at her home near Liberty at 4:40 p. m., Thursday, April 23, 1914, after a lingering illness. Funeral services will be held at the residence Sunday afternoon, April 26, at two o'clock, in charge of Rev. Mr. French of the Christian church at Virginia.

Keziah (Cox) Stockton was the daughter of Eli and Frances Cox and was born at "Cox's Grove," near Ashland, Ill., October 15, 1835, on the large farm owned by her father, then and for many succeeding years, and where she grew to womanhood. She was married November 18, 1854 to Allan Stockton, who preceded her in death November 16, 1875. At the time of her marriage Mr. Stockton was a widower with seven children, to whom she ever gave a mother's love and care. She was the mother of seven children, three sons and four daughters, all of whom were permitted to come from their distant homes and minister at the bedside of their aged mother for five or six weeks, in every way that love and medical aid could devise during the long period of intense suffering, brought on by a complication of diseases. One by one she called for her children and was more than pleased to have her loved ones with her. She also greatly appreciated the kindness of her neighbors, who did all in their power to comfort her.

In her death the community loses another of its pioneer citizens. Very rarely could one visit her home and not find her there. It has been the writer's privilege to be in her home and many pleasant hours have been spent in her companionship.

"Aunt Kizzie" she has been lovingly called for many years by old and young, and her memory will long be cherished by those who knew her best.

She became a member of the Christian church during the pastorate of Rev. Mr. Vorter, thirty-five years ago, and has been a faithful member ever since. A loving mother, and a good neighbor has passed from earth. She is survived by seven children: Morgan of New Berlin, Mrs. Wickliff Lindsay of Liberty, Mrs. G. R. Holmes of Kirksville, Mo., Mrs. S. D. Smith of Jacksonville, Mrs. Sherman Miller of Scott's Bluff, Neb., Samuel Stockton of Chicago, and Douglas, who has always remained with his mother and for many years has tenderly cared for her in the decline of life. Eight grandchildren, thirteen great grandchildren and three stepchildren also survive. The stepchildren are Mrs. Sarah Merica and Mrs. Elizabeth Harris, of York, Neb., and J. A. Stockton of Virginia, who so tenderly shared the long weary vigil at her bedside. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Ruth Rathburne, of Dixon, Ill., besides numerous other relatives and friends.

PETER D. MEGGINSON DIED VERY SUDDENLY FRIDAY MORNING

Passed Away as Result of Heart Failure While at Work on His Lawn—Had Spent Entire Life in Morgan County.

The people of Jacksonville and Morgan county generally were shocked Friday morning by news of the sudden death of Peter D. Megginson at his home six miles west of Jacksonville. Death came unexpectedly after Mr. Megginson had gone from the house into his yard to plant some shrubbery. His daughter, Miss Cora Megginson, noticed from the window that her father had fallen to the ground and rushing to his side found that he was apparently dying. Death was the result of heart failure brought on by an attack of acute indigestion.

A call was sent for Dr. A. M. King, soon after Mr. Megginson was found and he arrived within a short time but life was already extinct. The deceased had an attack of indigestion several days ago but was feeling better and no serious consideration was given his sickness. Mr. Megginson was 71 years of age and had spent his entire life on the farm where he passed away. His parents were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Megginson, who came to America from Yorkshire, England and settled on the farm, west of Jacksonville which subsequent to their deaths passed to the ownership of their son, Peter Dowling Megginson who was born Jan. 5, 1843.

The Late Peter D. Megginson. For twelve years a Morgan county commissioner.

There were nine children in the family, six sons and three daughters and all of them have now passed on to the eternal city. Nov. 11th, 1869 Mr. Megginson was married to Miss Sarah C. Middleton who passed away March 17, 1882. Four children were born to them, two daughters, and two sons: Mrs. L. M. Shirliff, who died December 18, 1912 and Miss Cora at home; Leonard at home and Alfred who lives on a farm in the vicinity of the home place.

Mr. Megginson had served as a Morgan county commissioner for twelve years and he brought to the work of that position the sound judgment and discretion which marked his general business career. Peter D. Megginson was a strong and honest man in the highest meaning of these terms and no name in Morgan county has been held in higher repute than his. In his farming and stock raising he was successful in large degree and he brought to his work not only industry but marked intelligence. The Megginson farm has for years been one of the beauty spots in Morgan county, the buildings and outlying grounds always being kept in perfect condition and showing clearly the care and attention bestowed upon them. Mr. Megginson in his farming operations as in his other work was exceptionally provident and his plans were always so well outlined ahead that he was able to combat varying weather conditions better than the average farmer.

By the death of Mr. Megginson the county has lost a man who spent his entire life of seventy one years within its borders; a man who was universally respected. He was devoted to his family and home, was generous and kind hearted to those in need, loyal to his friends, a splendid representative of the sturdy English stock from which he sprang. On account of the suddenness of Mr. Megginson's death an inquest was held at the residence by Coroner George W. Wright. Dr. A. M. King, was the only witness and after his testimony the jury returned a verdict stating that death was due to a valvular heart lesion, caused by acute gastric indigestion. The jury included Charles Gibbs, foreman; Hilton Middleton, James Allan, David P. Coultas, Charles W. Hanson, and H. H. Richardson, clerk.

The funeral will be held at half after twelve o'clock Sunday noon at the Point church and the burial will be in Liberty cemetery.

MORTUARY

Nestadt.
Mrs. Herman Nestadt, aged 77 years, died Friday night about nine o'clock at her home west of Arenalville. No arrangements for the funeral have been made.

Loneragan.
Michael L. Loneragan died Friday morning at 6 o'clock at Our Saviors' hospital, where he had been a patient since Friday a week ago. Mr. Loneragan was at work in the field a short time ago with a disc and accidentally cut his ankle. He did not think much of the injury until his foot got to paining him and he was brought to the hospital where an operation was performed in a hope to save his life.

He was born, March 16, 1897 and has just passed his 17th birthday. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Loneragan, who reside east of Murrayville. Besides his parents he is survived by four sisters, Mary, Nora, Josephine and Rosaline, and one brother, Thomas Loneragan of Murrayville. He was a young man whom everyone respected and his untimely death will be learned with great sorrow by his many friends. The remains were taken to the O'Donnell undertaking parlors and yesterday afternoon sent to his late home in Murrayville.

Funeral services will be conducted from the Catholic church in Murray-ville, Sunday morning at 10 o'clock, in charge of Rev. Father McCauley. Interment will be made in Murrayville cemetery.

M'LEAN AND LIVINGSTON COUNTIES HIT BY STORM

Heavy Windstorm, Accompanied by Rain and Hail Does Great Property Damage—Two Persons Hurt.

Bloomington, Ill., April 24.—Northeastern M'Lean county and southeastern Livingston county were hit this afternoon by a heavy windstorm, accompanied by rain and hail. Many farm buildings were wrecked, houses moved off foundations and windows broken.

Fairbury in Livingston county was cut off from communication for several hours and was reported to have been struck by a tornado. When communication was restored tonight, it was learned the storm had passed four miles south of that place but had paralyzed telephone wires. Mrs. Benjamin Bose, wife of a farmer, had an arm almost torn off and Roy Frey, was seriously injured.

Many Hurt in Storm.
Kankakee, Ill., April 24.—The storm struck Clifton, 14 miles south of here at 6 o'clock. One elevator was blown down and several business buildings were damaged. Mrs. Mary Collins' legs were broken when her home collapsed.

At Otto, ten miles north of Clinton the Illinois Central depot was blown over, burying R. L. Madix, the agent, his wife and her mother in the debris. They were rescued by friends and brought to the hospital here. Madix was seriously hurt. The women escaped with a few bruises.

Telephone and telegraph poles were blown down for several miles. Switch Tower Across Track.
Bloomington, Ill., April 24.—The interlocking switch tower at Otto, a few miles south of Kankakee was blown across the tracks, tying up traffic on the Illinois Central main line and the Bloomington-Kankakee branch.

Three Houses Overturned.
Danville, Ill., April 24.—Telephone communication with Mokence was cut off tonight by the storm that swept northeastward through that town this evening and railroad wires were working with difficulty. Reports from points south of Mokence state that nobody was killed there, although three houses were overturned and much other property damage resulted.

The Chicago and Eastern Illinois officials report forty or fifty box cars overturned in their yards at Mokence but have no information concerning damage inflicted upon the town by the storm.

A wrecking crew was tonight sent there from Danville to clear up the wreckage.

GENERAL VILLA REPEATS HIS PREVIOUS STATEMENT

El Paso, April 24.—The international political situation cleared greatly tonight as affecting the rebel government and the United States. This city and Juarez were perfectly quiet. A long note from Secretary Bryan to Carranza was transmitted through Juarez to Chihuahua tonight. General Villa who arrived at Juarez yesterday, repeated his declaration that he would not be drawn into a war with the United States, particularly as that would serve to draw the Huertista chestnuts out of the fire. He repeated these assertions to George C. Carothers, special agent of the state department and to newspapermen and many other visitors. T. J. T. McClammy, his cattle agent on this side of the river he said: "It is that little drunkard Huertista's fight; let him fight it. I wish I had 10,000,000 cartridges right now; I'd march into Mexico City without a stop."

Villa said that Carranza's note had been misunderstood and that the first chief was as friendly as he was to the United States.

PROVIDED WITH TRAIN.
Vera Cruz, April 24.—Many Mexican refugees here who desired to go into the interior were provided with a train today. American bluejackets fed the refugees at the depot before the train departed.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS OF MEXICAN CASUALTIES

Rear-Admiral Fletcher Reports 126 Mexicans Killed and 195 Wounded in fighting at Vera Cruz.

Washington, April 24.—One hundred and twenty six Mexicans have been killed and 195 wounded in the fighting at Vera Cruz since the American forces landed there Tuesday. The first official announcement of Mexican casualties came tonight in a despatch from Rear-Admiral Fletcher made public by the navy department in this statement: "A despatch under date of 4:15 p. m., today was received by the navy department tonight from Admiral Fletcher at Vera Cruz and showed the list of casualties of the Mexicans as 126 killed, 195 wounded, making a total of casualties to date of 321. "Admiral Fletcher further reported that at 3 p. m. today he informed Admiral Badger that quiet prevailed throughout in Vera Cruz and that affairs are gradually being straightened out and platoon. The equipment of the Mexican roads to run trains directly into United States territory prompted citizens of the American border today to organize an emergency brigade composed of merchants who have armed themselves."

Posts Notice to People.
Joseph M. Maytorona, governor of Sonora state, on instructions from General Carranza today posted this notice in all the important cities:

"To the Mexican people: You are urged to refrain from all anti-foreign demonstrations. The honor of the country at this moment is put to the test and it becomes all citizens to obtain from doing anything which might cast discredit upon us. General Carranza is discussing the Vera Cruz situation with the Washington government through diplomatic channels."

At the time he issued this placard Governor Maytorona sent a train with 150 soldiers north to the Mexican village opposite Nogales.

United States Consul Frederick Simpich today sent out more messengers by horse-back and automobile to warn Americans in the interior to leave Mexico at once. The foreign version of the expulsion of 120 Americans from Nacoziari was received by Consul Simpich over long distance telephone tonight as follows:

"On Thursday night a delegation of rebel leaders called on J. S. Williams, Jr., manager of the copper company, and served notice that all Americans in Nacoziari must leave Mexico before daylight. All the Americans numbering 120 accordingly were called together and by 2 a. m. a train was made ready and a start made for the border. The incident was the first unfriendly act on the part of the rebels experienced at that point."

Americans who arrived from Hermosillo on tonight's train reported that 1000 Yaqui Indians on hearing that the American forces captured Vera Cruz deserted the federal army and went west to the hills with their arms. The Yaqui Indians are credited with being the best fighters in Mexico.

of 18 hours. No cavalry went today but a regiment, probably the sixth will be embarked on the next transports which go. An accommodation for the cavalry was possible on the ships which departed today. The artillery taken was equipped with rapid fire guns and field pieces of the mountain type and plenty of pack mules to carry them. The disposition of the forces on arrival at Vera Cruz has not yet been determined but it is practically certain a movement will be begun on their arrival to take possession of twenty seven miles of the railroad to the big bridge which is the keystone of the railroad system between Vera Cruz and Mexico City.

In all about 4,000 troops will reinforce the 5,000 and upwards of marines and bluejackets.

Meagre Reports of Fighting.
Secretary Garrison had received only meagre reports of the fighting at Nuevo Laredo. "We are not going to invade Mexico under the present conditions," he said in answer to questions. The navy department was again a center of intense interest, dispatches from the fleet being looked for expectantly throughout the day. The occupation of Vera Cruz by the naval forces was reported complete.

Secretary Daniels gave most of his time to arranging for the departure of American refugees. Most of the Americans at Puerto Mexico are aboard a Hawaiian-American steamship anchored there while the British Cruiser Berwick was ready to take on more.

The Gunboat Nashville has gone to relieve the congestion there. No news of an official character of the interruption of the Tehuantepec railroad had been received but American warships are at Salinas Cruz, one of its termini, ready to take on refugees.

Preparations for keeping the army and navy supplied with plenty of food and provisions were advanced by the secretary of the navy.

Conditions at Tampico were said by Mr. Daniels to be unchanged. The Esperanza, a Ward Liner, which has left Vera Cruz with many American refugees will stop at Tampico for more and then proceed to Galveston with her passengers.

Mr. Daniels reiterated that no foreign vessels would be detained by the American ships. To do so he said, would be an act of war. Even the troops on the Mexican transports were not interfered with at sea but were allowed to land. Those who landed were placed under guard when they got ashore in order that they might not attack the American forces who hold the customs house as an act of reprisal.

HOW BRITISH CORRESPONDENT SEES MEXICAN SITUATION

Writer For London Daily Telegraph Sees Mexico United as One Man Against Invasion of United States.

London, April 25.—Telegraphing from Mexico City Thursday the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says:

"Three years of fratricidal war was forgotten in a day, the Mexican revolution ceased and the nation was blended into a unity which seems formidable. The utmost enthusiasm and devotion for President Huerta was displayed by all classes today and President Wilson's name was greeted with howls of death to the Americans."

"Patriotic demonstrations are unceasing. The Indian masses whom the revolution was driving into anarchy now are offering themselves as volunteers. Thousands of women have offered their service for active defense."

"The concentration of troops toward Vera Cruz is beginning. All railway services have been suspended and trains are being employed for the transport of troops. The stations along the line to Vera Cruz are tumultuous encampments."

"The Japanese residents here are making great demonstrations with flags and lanterns. They cheered before the foreign office today and the foreign minister appeared on a balcony and addressed them upon the close union between Mexico and Japan."

"A painful impression was caused by the daring appearance of Mrs. Nelson O'Shaughnessy, wife of the American charge d'affaires, at the wedding today of President Huerta's son. During the ceremony Mrs. O'Shaughnessy sat immediately beside Senora Huerta and in the procession had the arm of the commander of the rurales guards."

"This morning when Mexico City awoke it was surprised to find the statue of George Washington not on its pedestal but at the foot of the statue of Benito Juarez, a national hero."
